HUGHES, AIDE TO TAKE PROBE STAND FRIDAY

Plane Manufacturer, Chief Press Agent To Testify on Contract.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—Howard Hughes and his globe-trotting publicity man, John Meyer, will take the stand side by side tomorrow in the senatorial investigation of Hughes' wartime plane contracts.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) announced today that arrangements have been made for the joint appearance of the Hollywood millionaire and the man who said he spent lavish sums to entertain government officials in Hughes' behalf.

Ferguson's announcement was made after a session in which the senate war investigating committee heard testimony that top military leaders turned down a mass flying boat program in July, 1942, yet contracts for three boats were made later with Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser.

Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett testified that the joint (Army-Navy) chiefs of staff declared in July of that year that the diversion of materials to such a program would be "inadmissable" because everything was needed for fighting planes.

He read into the record a letter which Robert P. Patterson, then under-secretary of war, wrote five years ago yesterday summarizing the position of the joint chiefs of staff.

Lovett at the time was assistant secretary of war for air.

Patterson wrote the memorandum to Donald M. Nelson, then chairman of the war production board, which later that year gave Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, and Howard Hughes, aeronautical engineer and film producer, an $18,000,000 contract to construct three huge flying boats.

On Sept. 12, 1942, Lovett testified, he wrote a letter to Nelson to confirm information he had received that the WPB had awarded a contract to the Kaiser-Hughes company for three of the 200-ton craft. He said he understood they were to be built of "non-strategic materials."

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the subcommittee asked whether the letter constituted war department approval of the project.

No Army Approval

"No, sir, it was not," Lovett replied. "It was in response to a request."

At the time, he said, the Army had an elaborate plan" for the production of cargo planes, but it did not include the Kaiser project to mass produce planes.

The Army "did not desire" to underwrite Kaiser's project, calling for production of planes similar to the 70-ton Martin Mars, he said.

Lovett's testimony opened the fourth day of the senate group's public inquiry into approximately $40,000,000 worth of airplane contracts held by Hughes.

Ferguson told newsmen that he expects to call John Meyer, Hughes publicity man now enroute back from Paris, to testify tomorrow.

In previous secret hearings, Meyer gave the senators accounts of parties at which he said Hughes entertained top Washington officials. Meyer said he hired Hollywood beauties at $100 a night and upwards to entertain at the parties.

Ferguson also said he plans to call Hughes on Saturday if the movie producer arrives from California in time. Ferguson telephoned Hughes last night to ask that he come to Washington as soon as possible.

The original Hughes-Kaiser contract for three flying boats was later cut down to one, which is not yet been completed. Kaiser subsequently withdrew from the project, which Hughes is now carrying on.

The Patterson letter, read by Lovett, cited the need for "maximum production of combat planes" and said that none of the existing facilities should be diverted to the manufacture of cargo planes.

It added:

"It is very evident that any large increase in cargo plane production can be accomplished only by the production of combat airplanes is reduced, and any such reduction is inadmissible in the existing situation."

Lovett testified he first met Kaiser in 1942, probably in July, when the California industrialist asked to see him and outline his program for mass production of flying boats.

He said he told Kaiser he thought that was a Navy responsibility, and the Army was not interested.

He said Kaiser showed him "an artist's sketch" of a twin-hull, single-winged boat" which he did not think was related to the present design.

Ferguson wanted to know whether the Army ever encountered any reports of labor piratting.

COLLEGE HEAD GIVES UP FIGHT

Marietta President Sends Letter Interpreted as His Resignation.

By The Associated Press

MARIETTA, O., July 31—Dr. William Allison Shimer apparently had given up his fight today to keep the presidency of 100-year-old Marietta college in the face of the adamant opposition of the board of trustees.

In a letter to Prof. T. D. Phillips, leader of a faculty faction seeking retention of Dr. Shimer, the 53-year-old educator wrote:

"The trustees have notified me that they have reaffirmed their previously announced position.

"In acceding to their request, I am obliged to ask you, and through you, all other members of the faculty, and of the student body, to cease at once any activity in my behalf."

Dr. Shimer declined to elaborate on his letter to Phillips, saying:

"In the interests of the college, I can make no further statement."

Resignation Requested

The board of trustees, taking notice of Dr. Shimer's "separation, divorce and remarriage," asked him to resign in a registered letter which he received during his honeymoon in Canada July 18.

It renewed that demand yesterday despite a four-hour hearing for Dr. Shimer Tuesday night.

That letter, too, told Dr. Shimer he would be considered "out of a job" if his resignation was not received in 15 days. Deadline thus is Aug. 2.

The remainder of the brief letter Dr. Shimer addressed to Dr. Phillips consisted of the president's thanks for faculty support.

Members of the board of trustees, although they refused to say anything officially, indicated privately they considered Dr. Shimer's letter to Dr. Phillips his resignation.

Faculty Students Embroiled

Both the faculty and the student body became embroiled in the dispute between Dr. Shimer and the board of trustees. Dr. Phillips said "about 80 per cent" of the available faculty members signed a petition seeking Dr. Shimer's retention.

Students held a mass meeting and some hours later picketed the college's administration hall while Dr. Shimer was conferring with the board.

The difference began, the board told Dr. Shimer, with his marital troubles. His first wife, the former Edith Richmond, won a divorce in Franklin county (Columbus) courts in July, 1946, charging "gross neglect."

Dr. Shimer and the former dean of women, Miss Dorothy Blair, were married last June 21.

Convicted Traitor Gets Life Term

(Pictures on Page 16)

By The United Press

BOSTON, July 31—Douglas Chandler, 58-year-old former Baltimore newsman, was reported today to be planning an appeal to higher courts after being sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000 for broadcasting Nazi propaganda in Germany during World War II.

Atty. Claude B. Cross, Chandler's counsel, indicated he might file an appeal to the first U. S. circuit court of appeals and then to the U. S. supreme court "if necessary." He has 10 days to file the initial appeal.

The gray-haired convicted traitor, who broadcast over Radio Berlin as "Paul Revere," was returned to the red brick East Cambridge jail where he will remain until it is determined where he will serve his sentence.

Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford yesterday imposed the sentence.

DEWEY SCORNS TAFT DISCUSSION REQUEST

By The Associated Press

ENROUTE WITH DEWEY, July 31—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, prospective candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, wound up his Michigan visit today without giving support to a proposal from Sen. Robert A. Taft.

"What am I supposed to say, 'Don't shoot till you see the whites of their eyes'?" Dewey remarked at Flint, Mich., when told Taft had said Republican leaders should speak out on domestic and foreign issues.

"I did a lot of talking in 1944," Dewey said in reference to his last campaign for the presidency, "and I was the only one who did."

Informed that Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio had pledged support to Taft and predicted his nomination at the G.O.P. national convention in Philadelphia next June, Dewey said to newsmen with a smile and in a sardonic tone:

"I'm surprised. Aren't you?"

The governor indicated he would keep his mouth shut on both national and international issues until he felt the time and place opportune.

"I have no plans to speak outside New York state—barely no plans," he said.

Soap Box Derby Winners To Race In Columbus

Lowell Schlecht, 15, of 416 West Columbia street, city champion of the Marion soapbox derby held here July 186, and David McCreight, 12, of 140 Kenmore avenue, winner in the junior division, will head for Columbus tomorrow at 7 a. m. where they are entered in the district derby.

The cars have been checked since the race here and new wheels have been mounted on McCreight's car. Both have been pronounced in tip-top condition by the youthful drivers. Schlecht refused to have his wheels changed and has expressed confidence that he thinks he will stand a good chance in the district competition. Both cars have been repainted and are being lettered today with the names of the co-sponsors, Lions Club and WMRN.

The derby cars will be loaded on a truck tomorrow morning and taken to Columbus where the boys will make their time trial runs between 9 a. m. and 11 a. m. Inspecting of the cars, similar to the inspection held here prior to the race, will be made starting at 10:30 tomorrow morning. After inspection and time runs, the boys will return home. The cars will be held in Columbus until Saturday the day of the races.

Jack Hanley and Dr. Dan Murphy, Lions members who were in charge of the race held here, will accompany the boys to Columbus tomorrow and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McCreight and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schlecht are also planning to attend the races Saturday.

MINE SAFETY DRIVE ASKED

Federal Administrator Calls on UMW To Prove Output, Security Both Possible.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—Capt. N. H. Collisson, coal mines administrator, said today coal mines can attain top output without sacrificing safety.

In a report to Secretary of the Interior Krug on the government's operation of soft coal pits from July 29, 1946 to June 30, 1947, Collisson recommended that the United Mine Workers take the lead in bringing about miner compliance with safety requirements. He said:

"Many of the traditional habits and methods of long standing must be changed in order to eliminate unsafe working conditions in the mines."

Collisson also proposed that:

▶Coal operators, free of federal regulations for the first time in about 15 years, work specifically toward maximum mine safety, under terms of the contract Lewis signed with operators earlier this month.

▶The federal mine safety code be constantly revised and reviewed, on the basis of study, experimentation and practice.

▶The bureau of mines assume responsibility for increased and continued experimentation in safety measures and practices, particularly with regard to rock dusting methods and the use of Diesel engines in gassy mines.

"It might be argued," Collisson said, "that improvement in mining safety can only be accomplished at the expense of the necessary production of bituminous coal."

"The operation of the majority of the bituminous-coal mines under the uniform standards of the federal mine safety code (July 29, 1946, to June 30, 1947) refutes without question any such theory.

"The 620,751,000 tons of coal produced during that period is second only to the coal produced in the comparable period July 1, 1943, to June 30, 1944, when 630,485,000 tons were mined.

"It would seem clearly indicated that increased safety and maximum production of coal are quite possible and need not be considered as a deterrent in the accomplishment of either objective."

Collisson, who told reporters he plans to complete the liquidation of the defunct coal mines administration in August, said in his report that there were 3,058 mine inspections during the period of government possession.

AUTOMOBILE PLANTS COUNT 34,000 IDLE

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 31—Nearly 34,000 auto workers here were idled today by strikes and production cutbacks while additional hundreds faced layoffs next week.

The Ford Motor Co., threatened with a strike by the CIO United Auto Workers, notified 22,000 employes not to come in today or tomorrow because of a parts shortage resulting from a strike at the Murray Corp. of America.

Earlier Ford laid off 4,500 due to the strike at Murray, where 7,000 UAW-CIO members are demanding protection from civil liability suits for unauthorized work stoppages under the Taft-Hartley act.

Chrysler Corp. said a shortage of car frames usually supplied by Murray will force a 50 per cent cutback in Dodge truck production effective Monday, necessitating layoff of 1,300 employes.

Negotiations between Murray and the UAW have been recessed until Monday over the union's demands. The strike has been in progress since July 23.

Masked Robber Slugs Victim With Gun Butt

John Williams, 36, of 132 West Columbia street, suffered a head injury when he was slugged and robbed on the steps of his home about 4:20 a. m. by a masked and armed bandit, police reported today.

Williams said if his small Scottie dog hadn't barked first in warning and then attacked the masked robber, he would have fared worse.

Although the robber was handicapped by the dog biting his leg and blows landed by Williams, he forced the victim at gun point to give him his money, which amounted to more than $60. He then tried to take Williams' rings from his hands after he had slugged him with the revolver, cutting a gash in his head.

After the attack he was taken to the hospital in the Boyd & Uncapher ambulance where he was treated for his injuries and released. Shortly before noon his family became alarmed when he suffered a fainting spell and he was returned to the hospital. Suffering from nervous shock, his condition is not serious, the attending physician said.

Although the bandit escaped, Williams said he recognized him. Police reported they had arrested the man named and were holding him for investigation. No charges have been filed.

Threatening Mrs. Williams and the two children who had come out on the porch after being aroused by the struggle, the bandit continued to fend off the dog and still tried to take off the rings. Dr. Carl Sheehe, a neighbor, called first from the upstairs apartment next door then came down to aid Williams before the man left.

When Dr. Sheehe reached the street, the robber threatened him with the gun then fled south between the houses and escaped.

Returning from Restaurant

Williams told police he was returning from a downtown restaurant when the incident occurred. He said he had just parked his car in front of the house, located just west of the Boyd and Uncapher funeral home, and started up the steps of his home when his dog ran around the west side of the house barking furiously.

Williams said the dog's barking was unusual and he stopped for an instant to see what was causing it. He turned and looked behind him and saw the Scottie grab the masked man by the leg. The man had apparently come behind Williams from a hiding place after he had left the parked car, police said.

The bandit swung once and missed with a blow aimed at Williams' face then he started to defend himself from the dog. As he was bent over slightly trying to knock the dog away, Williams took the opportunity to land a blow to the man's face. He told police he hit him at least once hard enough to injure his hand.

Others Aroused

In the meantime, sound of the struggle and the barking of the dog had roused Mrs. Williams, her 16-year-old daughter, and small son as well as nearby neighbors.

Mrs. Williams Threatened

Mrs. Williams said the robber had already struck her husband with the revolver butt yelling at him to give him his money. Williams said he took the bills from his pocket and threw them at the man just before he collapsed on the ground.

Not content with gathering up the cash, the robber then leaned over and told Williams he wanted his rings. Mrs. Williams said he swung the revolver first toward her and then at the children while

ERIE MAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

Otto F. Layman in Akron Hospital; Condition Critical from Skull Fracture.

Otto F. Layman, 52, Erie conductor of 576 Uncapher avenue, is in a critical condition in the Akron City hospital suffering from a skull fracture received in an accident on the train yesterday.

The accident occurred as Layman's train, No. 15, which he boarded at Youngstown, was pulling into the Akron passenger station. He was standing in the doorway of the baggage coach when the door came loose from the safety latch and caught him as it swung shut. Momentum of the train as it stopped caused the door to close with great force.

Layman, who has been employed by the Erie 32 years was scheduled to leave the train when it reached Marion and was due here at 1:30 p. m. The train arrived at Akron at 11:20 a. m.

Mrs. Layman is in Akron, where she went yesterday afternoon. She was accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Roberts of 220 East Church street.

BOMB-RIGGED BODIES OF BRITONS FOUND

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, July 31—The bodies of two young British sergeants kidnaped as hostages by Irgun Zvai Leumi were found hanging today from two eucalyptus trees and were blasted to bits by a booby trap when British soldiers started to cut them down.

Jewish settlement police found the bodies in a forest preserve near Natanya just 24 hours after Irgun, extremist Jewish underground organization, announced it had executed the Britons in reprisal for the hanging of three Irgunists convicted in a prison delivery.

The area was cordoned off and the dogs were turned loose in an attempt to pick up the trail of the killers.

In Jerusalem, top Palestine government, officials met to map a rigid campaign against underground violence. One official said plans under consideration included a demand upon the Jewish Agency to cooperate actively in stamping out underground attacks.

(In London Prime Minister Attlee placed the entire Palestine situation before his cabinet.)

When soldiers started to cut the bodies down after an hour-long probe for mines, the booby trap exploded behind the body of Sgt. Clifford Martin. It blasted to bits his body and that of Sgt. Mervyn Paige and scattered the pieces over a wide area.

The blast wounded one Grenadier Guardsman in the face and threw several bystanders to the ground, including photographer James Pringle and correspondent Carter L. Davidson, both of The Associated Press.

REPLY PLEDGED BY OCTOBER

State Committee Promises Support; Senator Wants To Feel Public Pulse.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 31—The Ohio Republican state committee today unanimously pledged its support to Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) for the Republican nomination in 1948.

Taft in a statement to reporters thanked the committee for its compliment and said he would make a definite reply early in October after he has had an opportunity to sound out public sentiment in the country on his chances.

The committee called upon Rep. Clarence J. Brown, national committeeman, and Mrs. Kathraine Kennedy Brown, national committeewoman, to "take all steps necessary and helpful to bring to the attention of Republicans of other states, Senator Taft's unusual qualifications and availability for the presidency."

The motion to adopt the resolution was made by P. Lincoln Mitchell, chairman of the Republican committee of Hamilton county (Cincinnati).

Taft Issues Statement

Taft dictated this statement to newsmen:

"I'm greatly complimented by the action of the Ohio state central and executive committee in inviting me to become a candidate for president and tendering me their support.

"I owe any progress I have made to the hard work and assistance of the Republicans of Ohio and I can not adequately express my gratitude to them.

"I'm planning a vacation in Canada and then a speaking trip to the Pacific coast. In the meantime, I shall try to sound out public sentiment throughout the country to determine whether there is a good probability of my nomination and election; I shall make a definite reply to the committee early in October."

This is the third time Ohio Republicans have indorsed Taft for the presidential nomination. The first time was in 1936 when he had a contest in the primary with the late Sen. Borah of Idaho. The second time was in 1940.

Wants "Chance To Win"

Before the state central committee meeting, Taft told reporters he wanted to be certain "there's a good chance to win" before he decided definitely to run for the 1948 nomination.

State Chairman Fred Johnson of Zanesville, presented a mimeographed text of a committee resolution to Sen. Taft at a luncheon of the Ohio congressional delegation.

The members applauded as Taft made his brief acceptance to the resolution and expressed his gratitude "particularly to John Bricker."

After his comments he didn't want "a lot of people to do a lot of work unless there is a chance of election," Taft added:

"At the present moment it looks pretty good."

Gets Sincere Support

As Johnson and Taft repeated the ceremony for photographers one member of the delegation called out "say that last line over again, senator."

Then the delegation returned to its meal in preparation for releasing an expected congressional resolution of his own.

During the news conference, Taft pursued his campaign [illegible]

Long vs. Short Skirt Battlers Can Cease Fire—Designer Foshions Dress with Both

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press
Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 31 — A movie fashion designer triumphantly unveiled today his new creation that he figures will halt the nation's bitter long vs. short skirt battle.

Eddie Stevenson's solution: a long-short skirt

It's long, but it's short too. In other words, Eddie whipped up an outfit with two skirts that you ladies can wear at the same time without you men lamenting that their gams are covered up.

The long skirt is transparent

Now, said Eddie happily, women can be stylish in long skirts and show off their pins at the same time.

Mr. Stevenson was driven to this startling discovery, he explained, because of the activities of a fellow colleague at RKO studio, Designer Renie. Eddie was nose deep in designing Rosalind Russell's hoop skirts for "Mourning Becomes Electra" when he spied Jane Greet tripping out of Renie's office next door in a long, long skirt.

Brief Glimpse of Ankle

All that could be seen of Miss G's gams, he discovered, was an inch or two of ankles.

Stevenson recovered in time to snare Jane down the hall

"Well, Renie thinks I should wear them because they're stylish in the east this season," she explained.

Stevenson, stunned, charged into Renie's quarters to find out how come

"It's an historical cycle," announced Renie, determined to make more of a success with her long skirt than she did with her front-less evening gown

"After every war comes a drastic fashion change. The bustle came in after the Civil war. And the transparent bodices after the Napoleonic wars. Skirts went up after World War I, didn't they?"

No place for 'em to go this time but down, she concluded

Besides, she added, women feel, act and look more ladylike and feminine in longer skirts. This they want, she insisted, because they're tired of the masculine WAC uniforms and war workers' slacks of the war.

Miss Greet, the designer sniffed, was quite happy to wear longer skirts in "They Don't Believe Me"

"Keep 'Em Short"

"Short skirts should stay," cried Stevenson. "Women want the freedom of action of a short skirt. Men want to see women's legs. Besides, short skirts, not long, are more feminine"

This only opened up the argument so Stevenson retired to his office to break the deadlock. After hours of frantic sketching, he buzzshed that he had the solution. A dark short skirt and a transparent, long overskirt

HUGHES PLANE BEING TORN APART IN TEST

By International News Service

WRIGHT FIELD, DAYTON, July 31—Wright Field engineers were revealed today to be systematically ripped apart a $21,600,000 experimental photo plane produced by Howard Hughes to determine how well it can withstand strain.

The twin-engined craft, designated the XF-11, is the third of the type made by Hughes, who currently is in the spotlight of a congressional investigation of war contracts

A spokesman for the AAF's Air Materiel Command at the field said that the plane was being subjected to routine laboratory tests with rigs, weights and measuring instruments to uncover possible flaws in construction and design. Army officers explained that each experimental model considered by the AAF must undergo the same tests

The AMC declined to reveal how the Hughes' ship was holding up under the tests.

SOLO ROUND-WORLD FLIGHT SET SUNDAY

By International News Service

CHICAGO, July 31—Capt. Bill [illegible] take-off from the Chicago International (Douglas) airport at 2 p. m. Sunday on his solo around-the-world flight in the Reynolds Bombshell."

[illegible] plans for the flight were announced in Chicago by Franklin Lamb, president of the Reynolds Pen company.

The 27-year-old Roslyn, N. Y., flier will make the first leg of the flight a non-stop from Chicago to Paris. The 3,900-mile solo hop will be the first such ever attempted.

The rest of the itinerary:

Paris to Karachi, India, 3,700 miles; Karachi to Shanghai, 3,700 miles; Shanghai to Tokyo, 1,300; Tokyo to Fairbanks, Alaska, (or to an alternate airport in case of inclement weather) 4,000 miles; and Fairbanks to Chicago, 3,000.

The lean, willowy pilot, who recently flew the same converted [illegible] bomber around the world in the record time of 78 hours and 55¼ minutes, has two things in mind:

To make the trip in less than 90 hours, cutting the previous solo record in half; and he has his eye on a new around-the-world record he established in the first Reynolds flight.

4-H CLUB ENTERTAINED

The Kirkpatrick Dazzers 4-H club met recently with Miss Mamie Dunn. Demonstrations were given by Misses Harriet Monnette and Lucille Kennedy. Refreshments were served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Evert Dunn. Guests were Miss Mary Faye McMillen, Mrs. Henry Reamsnyder, Mrs. Irvin Monnette, Mrs. Burvin Boyd and daughter, Brenda. The next meeting, Aug. 6, will be at the school.

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 50 E. Sterling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 4961; Ext. 261.

EDUCATION, TRAINING COST OF VETS LISTED

More than a quarter of a billion dollars has been spent in the past fiscal year to provide education and job-training for World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

VA reported cumulative expenditures of $229,525,910 between July 1, 1946, and June 30, 1947, for education and job-training under the G. I. Bill (Public Law 346) and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act for disabled veterans (Public Law 16). The total included $118,337,557 in Ohio.

Tabulated in the expenditures were costs for counseling, supplies, equipment, tuition, subsistence allowances and increased payments over pensions in the vocational training of disabled veterans.

At the end of June, 273,079 veterans were enrolled in education and jobtraining programs in the three states, including 142,594 in Ohio.

ADVISE STUDENT VETS ON NEW LEAVE POLICY

The Veterans Administration today called attention of student veterans attending summer school under the G. I. Bill to new regulations governing accrued leave at the close of the summer semester.

Any student planning to take leave and wishing to continue receiving subsistence allowance during the leave period must apply to the VA atle ast 30 days before the summer term expires.

Veterans attending schodl under the G. I. Bill earn accrued leave at the rate of two and one-half days a month. Such leave-with-pay is deducted from total entitlement for schooling under the G. I. Bill.

STEADY RISE NOTED IN VET ON-FARM TRAINING

The number of World War II veterans taking on-farm training and related classroom instruction in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky has soared from 2,300 to 20,850 during the past 12-month period. Both totals include veterans training under the G. I. Bill for the non-disabled and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act for the disabled.

In Ohio, the number in training increased from 350 to 7,750 during the past year. Related classroom instruction is offered at 310 Ohio schools.

The veteran's farm is considered his laboratory where he puts into practice the knowledge he learns at the nearby agricultural or vocational school. All of the veteran's farm operations are supervised. His classroom instructor visits him regularly to check on his practical farm work.

The program is designed principally for veterans who own or operate farms, or who plan to do so. However, it also provides training for those who desire to obtain jobs as hired managers or skilled workers.

V. A. SYSTEM AIRS BALL GAMES AT VA HOSPITAL

The Veterans Administration hospital at Lexington, Kentucky, has set up an outdoor public address system to broadcast baseball games played by the Cincinnati Reds for the benefits of veteran-patients who are able to go about the hospital grounds.

CADET NURSES MAY FINISH TRAINING UNDER VA PLAN

Senior cadet nurses in U. S. Army or government hospitals now may take the final six months of their three-year training period in Veterans Administration hospitals under a comparatively new plan in the VA nursing service.

In the VA's Columbus Branch Office area of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, training programs for senior cadet nurses now are functioning at Crile VA Hospital in Cleveland, the VA Hospital Center at Dayton and at Nichols VA Hospital in Louisville. Six-month courses will extend successively to September, 1948, with 45 cadet nurses attending each course at Crile, 36 at Dayton and 40 at Louisville.

Cadet nurses must have completed two and one-half years of training prior to enrollment in the VA program. During the six months they spend in the VA hospitals they are assigned to various services, such as medical, surgical, neuropsychiatric, etc. They are on a 40-hour week, including four hours weekly of classroom instruction.

Upon completing the six-month course, the senior cadet nurses may receive temporary employment with VA if they make application for state board registration. If they pass the state board examination, they may be placed on permanent duty with VA.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My husband is a World War II veteran and often becomes suddenly ill because of malaria. How and where do I apply for hospitalization for him?

A. You should see your nearest VA contact representative or apply at a VA regional office or hospital. In an emergency, call the nearest VA office, collect.

Q. Does VA set the date of maturity on my G. I. loan?

A. No, but the term shall in no event exceed 10 years for non-real estate loans, 25 years for home and business loans on real estate and 40 years for farm loans on real estate farming operation.

Q. Will I have to pay for books or equipment while attending school under the G. I. Bill?

A. VA pays for all books and equipment that the school requires of all students in the same course as long as this amount plus tuition does not exceed 500 a year for the course.

Spanish War Veterans Reunion at Delaware

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., July 31—The forty-ninth annual reunion of the Fourth Ohio regiment of the Spanish-American war veterans will be held at the Delaware county fairgrounds Aug. 4, Charles W. Riddle, association president, announced today.

Approximately 200 veterans and their families are expected to attend the Delaware reunion. Among the visitors who have notified the president they will attend is Cornelio Vargas, assistant postmaster of San Juan, Puerto Rico. A native of Puerto Rico, Vargas was brought to the United States by members of the regiment. He was educated at the Soldiers and Sailors home in Xenia and once was employed by the Spanish-American veterans in Columbus as a printer.

Mayor P. J. Foley will deliver the welcome address, but other program plans have not been completed, Riddle said.

In the 18th Century, children as young as five years often worked 16 hours a day in dark and ill ventilated factories.

Zing, comes the swing to your sweetheart

How's that Buick sweetheart of yours? Still giving out with that eager Fireball power surge at a toe-touch? Still answering every light finger-touch on the wheel?

Most likely you'll answer, "It's doing very nicely, thank you." But years have a way of whittling away at performance—sometimes so slowly you don't notice it.

So you can be in for a whopping surprise.

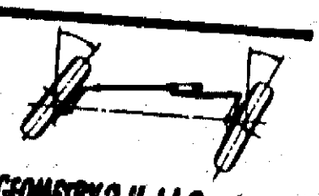
Just wheel your car into our shop and treat it to some real Buick care. The kind that comes from men who are truly fond of Buicks—who know what they can do and like to bring out all their oomph and go.

Let these men of ours test and tune your Buick with their special Buick tools. Let them replace anything that's worn with the right Buick-engineered part. Then, ZING, back comes the swing to your sweetheart.

Job for job, Buick car care costs no more than ordinary service. So, what's to lose? Come in to us whether it's for a tune-up, major or minor repair or regular lubriestion. Your car rates it.



GEOMETRY? Ugh! But here it means Extra Comfort

Buicks take turns without swing or sway. This means more comfort and less fatigue every mile you travel. Credit that to the geometry of Buick front-wheel suspension.

The wheels are designed to bank slightly on curves—the inside wheel turns a degree or two sharper than the outside one. And, they're hung at an angle that lets them give slightly to cushion road shocks.

So good Buick front-wheel service is a job for men who know Buick front-wheel action — who have Buick-approved checking equipment—who have at hand any needed Buick-engineered parts.

Another example of why Buick care keeps Buicks best. Whether it's for wheel alignment or any other attention, bring your car to us.

Rev. Bowman Speaks At Pension Meeting

Rev. W. C. Bowman evangelist of Marion was guest speaker at the meeting Friday afternoon of the Marion county Old Age Pension society held in the Eagles hall.

The meeting opened with the group singing "America" followed by members repeating the Lord's prayer and salute to the flag in unison. Rev. Bowman offered the opening prayer.

The musical program included the choir singing "Count Your Blessings," "I Need Jesus" and "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder," a selection by a trio composed of Mrs. Rose Selter, William E. Sergent and Christian Ruth, "Lead Me Gently Home Father," and four duets by Roy and Freda Ankrim of Oak Hill, "Down In the Valley," "When I Am Lonely," "He Lifted Me Out" and "Jesus Helped Me Carry My Load."

Rev. Bowman based his talk on the text "you shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." He reviewed briefly the three branches of the government, legislative, judicial and executive, and compared them to the three parts of the God-head. Rev. Bowman continued by urging members to have faith in God's omnipotence, and omnipresence and said that He did not mean freedom from affliction, ignorance or poverty, but freedom from sin. At the close of his talk, Rev. Bowman spoke the benediction.

East Center Street Building Now Being Razed Is Historic Church Built at Close of Civil War

By MARY HERRING

At some time during the past few weeks almost every Marion resident has looked at the group of buildings being torn down on the northeast corner of East Center and North State streets.

Comparatively few Marionites remember, however, that the building which until recently housed the Yellow Cab Taxi offices, was once a church used by members of the Free Baptist congregation, the first religious sect organized in early Marion. Date of the organization was 1824

The brick building on East Center street, now being razed, was the third church used by the Free Baptists. Construction of the brick edifice was started in 1865 but building was delayed due to the Civil War and the church wasn't completed and dedicated until the fall of 1867.

Services were held in the East Center street church until midsummer of 1908 when the Trinity Baptist church was completed on South Main street and the building on East Center was sold

Organized in 1824

Baptist work was organized in Marion in a brick school house on North Prospect street by Rev. David Dudley and Rev. Samuel Bradford in 1924.

First members of the church were Hezekiah Gordon, Mrs. Higgins, Mr and Mrs. Smith, Alvin and Betsey Priest, John and Betsey Tompkins and a few others.

Membership increased to 90 persons when a revival was held in 1841 in a barn at the Jacob Ulsh home. Both land and timber for the first frame church building was furnished by Mr. Ulsh with construction work done by the pastor, Rev. G. Baker and four men members of the congregation.

This first building was erected in 1842 on a road, now known as Mt. Vernon avenue and located near where Summit street intersects. The building was later moved into town and placed on the east side of South Vine street on a lot donated by Eber Baker, founder of Marion.

The corner stone of this first building bearing the inscription "Free will Baptist Church, Erected A. D. 1842" is now placed within the walls of the South Main street church.

Building Cost $16,000

In 1865 it was decided to build the brick church on East Center street. The cost of the new church was $16,000. Two liberal contributions of $1,000 each were received from Lemuel Fitz and John P. Smith. The dedicatory sermon in the new church was given by Professor R. Dunn, D.D. of Hillsdale college. The pastor was Rev. S. D. Bates.

Several pictures taken by Miss Florence Durfee of South Main street while the East Center street structure was in use show the corner section as it appeared in the late 1800's and earlier part of the present century.

The church itself was an imposing structure with one large double arched window over the entrance flanked by two narrower ones at the top of the building facing Center street. The arched doorway was flanked on each side by a smaller arched window.

Five long double arched windows and five smaller windows below were installed on each side of the building. Until recently, these larger windows, located on the upper half of the building and many of the lower windows were covered with metal strips after the church ceased to be used as a place of worship.

The church yard was enclosed along the rear and each side with an iron fence with only the wide front approach to the steps left open.

Belfry Removed

The belfry and high steeple which graced the building when used as a church were removed some time ago.

The interior of the church boasted three aisles with double-pews on each side of the center aisle. A wooden section running the full length of the church divided each pew into equal sections.

The pulpit was located at the center of the north wall and was placed in front of a velvet drape. Intricately carved chairs with towering high backs stood on either side of the pulpit. The small organ was placed to the left of the altar with chairs for choir members arranged in the northwest section of the church, directly behind the organ.

A huge chandelier hung from the ceiling with a number of white glass bowls shielding the lights. Side brackets with two lights each were installed on the wall on either side of the pulpit and single side brackets were placed along each side of the church walls. Gas light, used originally, was later replaced with electricity.

The outside pictures taken while the church was still in use show telephone poles with 11 crossbars of insulators and strung wires literally weaving a net of wires over the street.

The building on the corner, occupied most recently by the Clad-Rite Laundry was then a grocery store. An unidentified woman, clad in white shirtwaist and dark skirt is caught in the act of mailing a letter in the corner mail box fastened to a post when a picture of the church was taken.

The second store space, last occupied by John Jolley Barber shop, has a wooden sign over the awning bearing the name "Monarch Printing Co" Hagemann and Son Grocery was the third store from the corner with Woodruff and Jury Meat Market occupying the last building west of the church

Photos Inexpensive

Printing on a sign between the third and fourth stores proclaims the upstairs occupant will take "photographs, one cent each, 6 for 5 cents"

Early in 1900 Rev. George E Barnard was assigned to the pastorate and served until 1912 after the Trinity Baptist church was completed and dedicated.

The last services were held July 26, 1908, in the East Center street church. Rev. Barnard delivered the morning sermon and conducted the final evening services, which was dedicated to reminiscences of the early days of the church and the history of the Woman's Missionary society and Christian Endeavor society and Sunday school, all of which were started while the church on East Center street was being used.

Rev. Barnard, now retired as an active minister, and living in Michigan, recently visited Marion shortly after the work of razing the block of buildings was started

Pure-Oil Co has purchased the entire block and plans to erect a modern service station.

Communist Scheme To Take Over French Government Told

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain, France and other economically distressed nations of western Europe are reaching for the prospective benefits of the Marshall rehabilitation project like drowning men grabbing for life-bouys.

For example: Authoritative sources in London stated yesterday that the government had under consideration the drastic course of spending some of England's $2,560,000,000 gold and dollar reserve as an emergency measure to deal with the difficult days which are expected to plague the country next winter. But the important point of this disclosure—and your special attention is drawn to it—is that the tapping of the reserve would be a stop-gap between the period when the $3,750,000,000 loan from the U. S. is exhausted about the end of the year and the time when the Marshall plan or some other American program of financial aid to Europe becomes effective.

DeWitt Mackenzie

Tuesday, too, France made a new appeal to Russia in the United Nations economic and social council to join in implementing the Marshall plan. The Paris government, fighting to keep out of the grip of the powerful French Communist party, is greatly worried over Moscow's attitude. Delegate Georges Boris told the council that distrust between Russia and the western powers was paralyzing European economic recovery.

Rebuked for Plan

The Russian reply was to rebuke France for bringing the Marshall plan into a United Nations debate. White Russian representative Kaminsky declared the economic and social council has no right to discuss the Marshall plan. He further said the plan was linked with German economy, which he maintained had no place on the agenda.

With the above as background I am going to set down here a sensational and, if substantiated, vastly important report which comes to me from a usually exceedingly well informed European source. You will recall that last May French Socialist Premier Ramadier dismissed from his coalition cabinet the five Communist ministers, after the national assembly had given him a two-to-one vote of confidence in which Communist members dissented. Since then the Communists have been outside the government.

Deliberately Staged

It's clear that this split was the result of Communist refusal to collaborate. My source now tells me that the crisis was deliberately precipitated under orders from Moscow, and the strategy was this:

It had just became apparent that the Russian wheat crop this year would be excellent, barring unforeseen contingencies. Possession of this breadstuff would provide a mighty bargaining weapon on a continent which, in many places, was hard pressed for food. France for almost the first time in her history was short of bread.

Well, with that set-up the French Communists were to undertake a program of harassing the government. An important phase of the campaign would be the causing of labor troubles, the Reds being powerful in important trade unions. This would add further to the economic chaos of the nation. When autumn approaches, and the government was beside itself with tribulations, ship loads of Russian wheat would be offered to the distressed country and the time would be ripe for the French Communist party to zoom into power on the gratitude of the populace and the weakness of the government.

There is one more item to be added. Last Sunday a communique was issued in Moscow giving the first authoritatively published news that the Soviet wheat crop is indeed excellent. There is grain for export.

Want To Make Something of It?

NO SINGLE action of the Russian government can be considered apart from similar and related actions. Refusal to yield on the problem of Balkan relations is related to everything that has gone before and will come after.

The Soviet Union's governing party, having studied the United Nations as an instrument of international cooperation, has put its finger squarely on UN's fatal weakness—the fact it is only a debating society, with no means of carrying out its decisions and without even any means of arriving at a decision, because of the veto power.

The United States can propose anything that comes to its mind about the Balkans, or about anything else in which the Soviet Union is interested. But it can do no more than propose. Russian vetoes can block decisions. Whatever decisions might be taken despite Russian vetoes —as in the general assembly of the United Nations—would be meaningless in the absence of power to enforce them.

This leaves Russia in the position of challenging its international neighbors individually and collectively to make something of it if they disagree with any Russian policy. It also leaves all of Russia's neighbors in the same position—a fact that may dawn on the Kremlin one day with the impact of a party purge.

It Could Be Embarrassing

THERE'S a rumor in circulation that soft coal miners, on orders from the United Mine Workers president, John L. Lewis, are doing their best to prove that increased efficiency can offset their latest pay raise.

This could be as embarrassing as a pig under the parlor sofa. In the first place, the miners' best is pretty good. If they set out to prove something, chances are they'll prove it.

In the second place, the President of the United States in person asked coal retailers and such users of coal as the steel industry to hold back on price-boosting until they'd had a chance to see what the miners could do in the way of efficiency.

In the third place, the retailers and such users of coal as the steel industry—disregarding the President's advice to wait—raised prices before the wage settlement in the coal industry even had been put into effect. Without exception, they cited the settlement as one of the reasons—in some cases the only reason—why they were raising prices. They were a little too eager to seize an excuse; it may turn out that they walked into a trap laid for them by Mr. Lewis, who is potentially able to make them eat their own statistics.

Houses Going Up

ACCORDING to Frank R. Creedon, federal housing expediter, more new houses were started and completed in June than in any month in 20 years. He reports 75,000 started and 62,800 completed. In the first six months 362,000 permanent homes were completed, compared with 128,500 in the same period last year.

This is interesting news for those who thought the home building trade had declined to next to zero. Creedon says the lifting of non-rest dential construction controls June 30 will not check the rising home building graph. It's a matter that should be watched carefully. Until the home building figure rises well above 100,000 units a month and gives indication it will stay there indefinitely, other construction work should be of secondary priority.

Pepping Up the Monkeys

R. MARLIN PERKINS, Chicago Zoo Director, reports a change has been made at the monkey cage, which had been equipped with a one-way window so people could see the monkeys put the monkeys couldn't see the people.

The result was that the monkeys became listless, bored, sitting for hours with no more than an occasional swipe at a passing insect. As soon as the ordinary two-way glass was re-installed, the monkeys became full of life again. "Monkeys get more kick out of their visitors than the latter get from the monkey," Mr. Perkins says.

Never doubt that a monkey has a sense of humor. He'll put on a show if he has the inspiration. There's nothing funnier than a barrel of people.

Anti-Aircraft Marksmanship

THE exasperated fisherman who tossed a beer can at an airplane flying low over a Nebraska lake, bringing it down with a shattered propeller, must have been shocked at the result of his petulant gesture. But he must have been impressed at his own power, too. Conceivably, it could be the first time a man became drunk with power on an empty beer can.

What's needed is the equivalent of an empty beer can to check the mad progress of careless motorists who outrage law-abiding pedestrians (there are a few) by disregarding their rights and endangering their lives.

San Francisco draws its city water supply from Hetch Hetchy dam high in the Sierras 170 miles away.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

"Resignation" Fails To Describe Cohen Departure.

WASHINGTON, July 31—The "resignation" of Ben Cohen was hardly that. The departure of the old Roosevelt brain truster from his position as counselor of the state department was given out to the public somewhat enigmatically, as if anyone were permitted to attach his own interpretation with no flights of imagination barred. In fact, in one paper I read it on the society page although it was not presented as a social note, but as a small news item which apparently did not fit any place else.

Nearly all the authentic inside stories agree on one explanation for the "resignation," namely this:

Cohen made a speech on the west coast saying Europe should get $5 to $6 billions more a year from us for 3 to 4 years. This scared the decimal points out of the treasury people, including Treasury Secretary Snyder, who knows Mr. Truman better than Cohen. But it may have been an even greater surprise to the Europeans because a few weeks later all London anonymously asked for was $3 billions a year for 3 years, or rather that was the first figure to come out of their anonymous "experts examining requirements of the continent in the light of the Marshall proposal."

Doubt Even Break

The newswriters here say privately Cohen may not have obtained an even break in justice on his speech. They looked it up and all he said was that the experts (another anonymous set) who had looked into the situation had said that Europe needed the $15 billion to $24 billion American money he mentioned, on top of the $19.5 billion which we already have appropriated. Thus Cohen had some anonymous experts who said Europe needed much more of our money than the London anonymous experts (quoted in a front page dispatch to the New York Times.)

Whoever Cohen's anonymous experts were they were not official as far as the White House is concerned; or the treasury, where an idea has been expressed that the amount of "more money" needed in addition to the $19.5 billion we have already appropriated would be zero, if Europe adopted the Marshall plan of self-help economically and politically.

But do not deduce from this set of inner circumstances that Cohen just became angry and quit. His resignation is supposed to have been on President Truman's desk since Jimmy Byrnes resigned as state secretary. Cohen was a Byrnes man. He had aided the former secretary with economic advice when Byrnes earlier had been national stabilizer. An insider, authoritative on this subject, has suggested Mr. Truman himself took up the resignation at this time in a polite way.

The announcement of the resignation was made after Marshall had been called to the White House by Mr. Truman. The natural implication that Marshall had something to do with the resignation directly may not be entirely warranted. Marshall was consulted about a successor mostly, and he selected his own man to be his state department counselor in Cohen's place. Marshall chose Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, who has been functioning as counselor for a long time on the primary foreign policy, namely Russia in fact, most state authorities agree Bohlen has been the real working level authority behind the development of the Russian and American policies.

Story Falls Flat

The Russians were said (at the time the change was made,) to be all set to circulate in this country a story that some relative of Bohlen's at some time was in the Krupp munitions works, and to make a big ado about Bohlen descending from the Von Bohlens who were "munitions barons."

No one thought enough of the story even to ask Bohlen about it, because it had nothing to do with the case. In ideology experience, Bohlen appears to have a background as possibly something of a Bill Bullitt man. At any rate he went to Moscow first with Bullitt, when Bullitt was a sympathizer with Communism, not knowing much about it. After he (Bullitt) saw it in operation in Moscow, he withdrew and the book of his reconversion to normality was a best seller last year. Bohlen is a career diplomat who learned by first hand experience, being stationed variously in Moscow as first secretary as late as 1943-44, and lately on the Russian desk in the state department. He is a master of languages and one of the few top diplomats who knows Russian. He attended practically all the world conferences, and presumably met Marshall closely during them.

The Russians will have a hard time trying to deceive him, or anyone else concerning him.

A Shortage, Yes, But Not of Committees

The housing shortage is about to be investigated by a special congressional committee.

Again, that is.

The housing shortage has been looked into more frequently than a powder-room mirror.

It has been the subject of too many hearings and not enough brick-laying.

The latest investigating committee is composed of seven senators and seven representatives. We'd accomplish more with a one-armed carpenter.

It's no surprise that the nation has attained Hank Wallace's goal of sixty million jobs . . . not when you consider how many people are employed investigating the housing shortage.

Indeed, I can't help think that if they all went home, there wouldn't be one.

Whetstone Point of View

By RAYMOND MOLEY

CUT BANK, Mont., July 31—When Governor Dewey was out west on his alleged vacation, the name of Dan Whetstone figured in the news. Whetstone is Republican national committeeman. He, other Montanans and political leaders from neighboring states met at Bozeman in this state privately to discuss the political scene. It was reported in the national press that Whetstone had pledged the support of Montana's delegation to the 1948 Republican convention to the New York governor. This was an incorrect statement of Whetstone's position. He is friendly to Dewey. In 1940 his delegation stood firm for Dewey until the last or almost the last. Montana joined the procession in 1944.

Whetstone's present position in this: Montana Republicans like Dewey. But even those who are now committed to their own minds would resent an effort by the national committeeman to commit them. The time has not come to commit anyone to anyone.

Whetstone, like many other western politicians, likes forthrightness. As a newspaper man, he also likes a candidate who makes news. He does not say so directly, but it was clear to me that he believes there is a bit of over-sophistication in Dewey's policy of withholding his views on what his party has done in congress, on what position the party should take on foreign affairs and on the easily penetrated guise of not being an active candidate.

Calls for Action

Returning from the Bozeman meeting, Whetstone wrote a piece in his paper, The Cut Bank Pioneer Press, about the need for more straight talk and action by public men. He did not mention Dewey, but the inference is clear. He said, among other things: "I couldn't be more positive than I am that the sometimes mute and often vocal citizenry is hungering for evidence of action by leaders who are careless of political effects.

"Bob Taft isn't what you'd call a popular public man, but I heard his praises sounded quite loudly by people who had often expressed a dislike for him after he replied to Truman's statements when vetoing the labor bill. It was additional evidence to me of the hunger and thirsting for an attitude among leaders—and I include both Republicans and Democrats—who talk straight out of the middle of their mouths."

Whetstone likes a number of Republican possibilities. He has deep admiration for Senator Raymond E. Baldwin because of the Connecticut man's international views, his happy mixture of liberalism and of soundness and his friendly attitude toward labor. He also admires Stassen. He likes Taft's willingness to speak plainly on public questions.

Admired for Wisdom

Whetstone himself is a political personality whose importance in the Republican party is far greater than the numerical influence of his state might indicate. His eight years as national committeeman have brought him into contact with national political leaders and journalists. He is admired for his quiet wisdom and his wide knowledge of public affairs.

Thirty-eight years ago, he came to Montana from Minnesota. He started his weekly paper. He grew with his town, which had the fortune to be in the newly developed Montana oil fields. Cut Bank, unlike most western towns, never felt the depression. Every week Dan Whetstone writes his personal views on politics and things in general. His philosophy is graceful, meaty and politically astute. His language is simple and effective. He has achieved what so many newspaper men dream about —proprietorship of a small paper with big influence.

Dewey might well ponder Whetstone's advice. As a fearless champion of political righteousness, Dewey won the Northwest in 1940. What courage won them may be lost by caution now.

Clock Ticks Hours, Days, Months, Years

By The Associated Press

SPARTANBURG, S. C. — A clock made about 1880 is still ticking away here—keeping time, charting movements of the moon and sun and keeping track of days and months—all on a master wheel rotating once each 13 years.

The four-faced clock is the creation of Daniel Davis, who used crude tools to cut its wheels, gears and cabinet in his small cabin in the North Carolina mountains.

One face records the 24-hour progress of the sun. Another charts the course and phases of the moon. A third tells the day and month, even allowing for the extra leap year day. The fourth face performs a clock's ordinary time-keeping duty.

The novel gadget is the property of R. O. Davis, grandson of its skilled maker.

The Japanese Treaty

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

JAPAN was defeated by the United States. Soviet Russia played no part in that defeat. At no time and in no manner did Soviet Russia play any part in our victory over Japan. The Russians came into that war after Hiroshima—that is, after the first atomic bomb had been exploded over Japan. The Russians came into that war after the Japanese had invited the Russians, as neutrals, to intercede with the United States for an armistice and a peace. In fact, the Russians came in about six days before the American war with Japan collapsed.

Yet the Russians have been butting into the Japanese situation as though they had played a principal part in the war. They were neutral while our boys were fighting the Japanese in jungles, on coral islands, even on their own soil. Not one single battle did the Russians fight against the Japanese; but when it was all over, they pushed ahead, rapidly stealing the machinery of Manchurian industry.

So far, out of Soviet Russia's non-participation in the far eastern war, they have been given half of Korea, succession to the Japanese economic rights in Manchuria, including control of the railroad system and the Kurile islands. Now they want to tie up the peace treaty with Japan in that mystic nonsense called the big three, so that Japan may remain at the mercy of the Russian veto.

Those Most Concerned

Actually, the peace with Japan is the concern of all the Pacific nations. It is more the problem of China than any other country. In its solution, the Philippines are definitely more involved than any European country. To attempt to hold a peace conference with Japan without including China and the Philippines is ridiculous. Also concerned are all the nations that assisted in the victory, Australia, New Zealand, India, Great Britain. The United States has invited 11 nations; if the Russians choose not to come, let them stay at home.

The state department permits itself a vacillating policy toward Russia. We blow fierce in the matters of Greece and Turkey; yet, we tried to force Chiang Kai-Shek to go into partnership with the Chinese Communists, an armed branch of the Third International. We object to the Russians going into Hungary but we say little or nothing about their activities in Czechoslovakia. Secretary Marshall says he has fired 10 nameless pro-Communists from the state department but he wants aid sent to Russian satellites.

There is no clear-cut, sure policy. The reason may be that the present administration has inherited commitments from the prior administration from which it does not know how to recede. For instance, the state department apparently does not know how to back away from unfinished orders for industrial goods for the Russians for which we, not they, must pay. The state department is unable to tell the Russians in Korea that we shall manage our half as we please whether they like it or not.

Why Not Molotov?

The state department assumption must be that if this country speaks up, the Russians will get very, very angry. Has this country reached such a state that it is already scared to stand up for its rights? We had lots of courage against Hitler. Why not against Molotov?

At any rate, in this matter of a treaty with the Japanese, the situation is clear. It was our war. We did the fighting. We licked the Japanese. They have acknowledged that we defeated them. The United States sent its greatest general, Douglas MacArthur, to govern Japan. His accomplishments are beyond belief. For the first time in history, the conqueror resurrected a nation. He did not oppress the conquered peoples; he did not rob them; he did not abuse them. He seized no territory, enslaved no people, destroyed nothing. Instead he rebuilt a nation. He educated its young. He taught them to live in freedom.

And it is Douglas MacArthur who says that Japan should have a peace treaty forthwith and should re-enter the family of nations. So let it be done—quickly, justly and in the American spirit. This is strictly an American matter. Let's keep it that way.

The state department is stepping up its news broadcast to Russia . . . There will be 30 minutes more a day to explain the Hughes investigation.

• • •

Translated into Russian the Hughes probe makes a kind of sense.

• • •

As I understand it, Howard Hughes is charged with introducing Elliott Roosevelt to a flying boat while 12 chorus girls from Mars entertained the Kaiser.

• • •

But I think Sen. Ferguson should have allowed Henry Kaiser to quote from Tennyson . . . It is well known that Tennyson is politically neutral.

• • •

On the broadcasts to Russia, I hear they're coming along better than expected . . . In the last survey the "Voice of America" finished just behind the Stalingrad plow works program.

The Hoopervitch survey reports, "All those in Siberia with telephones were contacted."

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: Things certainly do look gloomy, don't they? There's no hope in sight anywhere. World War II has begun to pop in Greece. The lame-brains in this country are having more luck than usual in their campaign to ruin it.

The weather it rains, the radio it crackles, the sheets on the bed are damp and musty, the mosquitoes are ravenous and our gadflies are biting us with a vengeance where it hurts most—in the pocketbook. Things in general are going from bad to worse, and there's still worse to come. My, my.

So I took down a couple of books I like to reread at times like this and began to look for a few crumbs of comfort. In an old history I ran across this: "To the historian it must ever appear strange that men have been so distrustful of the first and most general truth in history that men ought to be free. It is an astounding fact that the major part of the energies of mankind have been expended in precisely the opposite way—in the enslavement rather than the liberation of the race. Every generation has like a stupid image of Buddha on the breast its own aspirations, and they who have struggled to break their own and the fetters of their fellow-men have been regarded and treated as the common enemies of human peace and happiness."

A fellow named Ridpath wrote that before I were born, in his "History of the World." He saves considerable confusion to judge people by what they are trying to do, instead of what they talk about. If they are helping men to be free I'm for them. If they're trying to put shackles on us, I'm against them. I also have given a little thought to other times when things seemed to be going to pot at breakneck speed, and it seems to be clear to me that only a fool says things look gloomy—and I mean f-o-o-l, the kind that used to be called simpletons but now is given the run of the premises so psychiatrists can make a living. No one who thinks twice about it can believe there's anything special to complain about, now or ever. As the saying goes, "Times are bad all over"—to which I'd like to add—"and always have been."

The thing to bear in mind is that things are better than we deserve, in view of the fact we have done nothing to improve them. We are so busy hating one another, and devising means of getting even for our grievances we don't have the time to appreciate how well off we are. If we got what we deserve, we'd be living in about the same circumstances as the least fortunate among us—and you go ahead and name the least fortunate. I have my choice. The people I pity most live in the United States, but are so sour and bitter they can't enjoy a single minute of it. They are more to be pitied in my opinion than heathen in the jungle. The heathen are happy.

Your boy has gained eight pounds, learned to fish for bullheads, tell the names of 20 trees, build a fire with one match and no paper, keep his mouth shut and his ears open when wisdom is present and chew slippery elm bark. His education is progressing nicely. He is not homesick. I forgot to mention he has learned to ride no-hands, saw a board straight and pound a nail. Regards to the rest of the folks.

Presidents' Pal, Press Agent Of Kings—That's "Birdwell"

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 31—With each passing year the more amazing becomes the mighty Birdwell. Pal of presidents and press agent of kings.

I suppose he's the wallopingest tub-thumper ever to come out of Hollywood; only man I ever knew who dropped his first name—Russell—altogether and signed his letters simply: Birdwell.

Well sir, there was the white-haired Jesse Jones teetering on the hind legs of his chair in the senate caucus room, telling the war investigators he'd never met Birdwell. Nor could Jones understand how Birdwell knew of his confidential memo to the late President Roosevelt, telling about an elegant new super-dooper plastic bomber that Howard Hughes had developed.

Wrote President

The elderly Jones said he wrote the President a note about the plane because he knew Mr. Roosevelt was interested in it. "Yes," said Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, "and here's a letter from the White House files from this Birdwell." Sen. Ferguson read it:

Birdwell wanted the late White House secretary Marvin McIntyre to talk to the President about the chances of making a newspaper story out of Hughes' secret airplane. Birdwell thought it had been secret long enough. Other documents from the White House indicated that McIntyre had taken up Birdwell's plea with the presidential press secretary, Steve Early, who said not to bother the President with it. Steve said he knew Birdwell for a high-power Hollywood gent.

Jones still couldn't understand how Birdwell knew about his note to the President; still couldn't remember meeting the man who wanted Mr. Roosevelt to announce Hughes' new airship.

It is my considered opinion that if Jones ever had met Birdwell, he would have remembered him. I'm sure I'll never forget him.

Ballyhooed Russell

In 1942 when Birdwell was communicating with the White House, he also was plastering the American countryside with billboards advertising another enterprise of many-sided Hughes: a movie entitled "The Outlaw." Hughes was directing this movie with one hand, apparently, while he designed bombers with the other.

Birdwell's billboards showed a bosomay lady named Jane Russell, wearing the lowest-cut dress ever to decorate a federal highway. La Russell was reclining on a pile of technicolor hay. Every time Birdwell plastered up another billboard, various church and censor boards pulled it down. Birdwell chortled; the publicity was invaluable.

He did the promotional job on "Gone with the Wind." Once he had me trailing a lady Godiva on the day before Christmas down Los Angeles' main street. She certainly stopped traffic. And so on; Birdwell was behind one incredible enterprise after another. He never stopped.

Until today, that is. Sen. Ferguson tried to subpoena him for testimony about his methods of getting confidential White House or RFC documents. Birdwell replied (I must admit that I'm a little disappointed in him this time) that he was too sick to leave California.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Jane Cupper's "Daring" Bathing Suit

The Cuppers showed me some tin-types of their nineteen-ten vacation—picnicking on the beach with beer and pretzels, in bathing suits that made them look like they were dressed in street-wear.

Dee was smothered in a long-sleeved pull-over with knee length shorts, and looking embarrassed—as if he thought Jane's costume of a heavy blouse, two copious skirts, and long black stockings was a little daring.

We laughed a lot at those costumes . . . but come to think of it, as Dee says, we'll probably look just as funny twenty years from now, in what we call our "Modern" clothes. Only thing that won't change in the picture is that mellow, wholesome glass of beer.

From where I sit, tolerance that lets us wear sensible, decent clothes—to give us sun and air and freedom—will keep that wholesome glass of beer a part of the American tradition.

Delta Theta Tau Picnic Held At Garfield Park

A PICNIC held by Gamma Mu chapter, Delta Theta Tau sorority, Tuesday evening at Garfield park was in the form of a get-together for delegates and members who attended the recent international convention and those who remained at home. While formal reports of the convention held earlier this month in Los Angeles, Calif., will not be heard until later, those attending told interesting highlights of the session and of meetings with former chapter members and residents of Marion.

Mrs. R. J. Shand Jr. of Springfield, Ill., was chosen to head the international sorority for the coming year and Cincinnati was chosen for the 1948 convention. A social highlight of the convention was the banquet attended by a galaxy of movie stars including George Murphy, Mary Pickford, Buddy Rogers, Ray Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris and others. Mary Pickford who flew from New York to be present for the banquet gave a talk in which she commended the sorority on its work, emphasizing that philanthropic work, such as is being done by members of Delta Theta Tau, is greatly needed and is adding immeasurably to the welfare of the country. The establishment and support of philanthropic projects also was stressed by Mrs. Spencer Tracy, sponsor of the John Spencer clinic for deafness.

Miss Pickford presented the national officers with "oscars" in recognition of the philanthropic work of the sorority and "oscars" were presented by the national officers to the motion picture celebrities, and the sorority members for their cooperation.

Before the Marion party's departure for home they were guests of Mrs. Edward Fox of Santa Monica, for a buffet luncheon. Assisting Mrs. Fox were Mrs. Virgil Hentze of Los Angeles and Mrs. Ray Biddle of San Diego. The hostess and assistants are former Marion residents. Home from the convention are Mrs. Robert Shoemaker and Mrs. Sherman Haldeman, delegates, Mrs. Newell Minard, Mrs. L. L. Bechtel, Mrs. Earl McWherter, Miss Alice Gertrude Smith, Miss Lucille Krock and Miss Pauline Ruhl.

Arrangements for the picnic were in charge of Mrs. Jack Bray, Mrs. Glen Penry, Mrs. Jack Reidenbaugh, Mrs. Max Sechrist, Mrs. Carl Sheehe and Miss Miriam Merchant.

MILFORD, O., July 31—Bitten by a pet skunk, Clifford White, 13, of Milford is in a Cincinnati hospital in a serious condition.

JULY WAS HECTIC FOR MIDDLE STATES

By The Associated Press

July weather for the nation was approximately normal on both coasts, but for the country's midsection it began with a cool and ended with a much needed heat wave.

A three to four day cold snap in mid-July broke records for low temperatures in several sections and resulted in many total July readings averaging considerably below normal.

In contrast, a blast of hot air enveloped most of the nation near the end of the month and kept tempers as well as temperatures simmering.

However, the corn belt needed the hot weather to mature its corn crop, planting of which was delayed by cold, wet weather.

New York City reported slightly less than average rainfall and somewhat above normal temperatures, with no July weather extremes. Washington, D. C., had a 39-year record low July 23 when a minimum reading of 57 climaxed a three-day cool spell during which the thermometer failed to reach 80.

Moving westward, Chicago experienced a four-day cold spell in which four records were broken, one establishing a new all-time low reading for the entire month of July. On July 22 the mercury fell to 49.3, lowest July reading ever recorded in the Illinois metropolis. Illinois generally had accumulated a total of 57 degrees below normal for July by month's end, with precipitation slightly above normal.

Chevrolet Hikes Price On Two Current Models

By International News Service

DETROIT, July 31—The Chevrolet motor division of General Motors Corporation has announced two price boosts.

Prices of all other models remain the same.

Cortez, the Spanish explorer took chocolate from the New World to the Old.

Fewer Jobs Open Here During July, Records Reveal

Records in the Marion office of the Ohio State Employment Service here show job opportunities for 473 workers were received in May and for 462 workers in June. Fred B. Scherff, manager of the local OSES office said. In June, 226 workers, including 43 women and 101 veterans were assisted in obtaining employment and in May, 228 workers, including 30 women and 78 veterans found employment through the assistance of the OSES.

It is anticipated that the total number of requests for workers received for July will be considerably lower because of the closing of seven of the largest manufacturing establishments in the city for vacations. At the beginning of June there were 142 jobs on file to be filled compared with 68 at the beginning of July. The number of workers needed by local employers for the next several months will also depend largely on the tempo in which materials and parts are received.

The number of workers seeking employment through the facilities of the OES increased 13.6 per cent during the month of June over the month of May. In May 851 workers including 246 women and 205 veterans were seeking employment through the OSES. In June, this figure increased to 740 including 240 women and 286 veterans. This increase was caused by college students and high school students seeking summer employment. At the present time 54 physically limited workers are seeking suitable employment.

The importance of cleanliness and the principle of quarantine for control of epidemic diseases are stressed in the Bible.

Black Gold Indian Troupe To Visit Marion Saturday

CHIEF SPOTTED HORSE AND HIS TROUPE

A real live Indian village will be set up in Lincoln park Saturday at 12 noon with a chief, Indian princess and all. They will be here to herald the coming of Allied Artists motion picture "Black Gold," the story of an Indian and his boy and a horse with a great fighting heart "Black Gold" stars Anthony Quinn as the Indian and Katherine Demille, Elyse Knox, Kane Richmond and Ducky Louie in supporting roles.

"Black Gold" starts Sunday, Aug. 10 at the Marion theater.

In addition to the Indian village that will be located at Lincoln park, the Indians will parade down Oak street to Central Junior High school grounds, where Chief Spotted Horse, a full blooded, Arapaho Indian, will make Mayor Dowler an Arapaho chief, naming him Chief Black Gold.

Chief Spotted Horse heads a troupe of 15 Indians, including a group of tribal dancers, and the Indians have their own Indian ponies which they will ride during the parade. The horses will be on display at the village the rest of their stay here. Admission to the Black Gold Indian village is free.

The Indians prepare and cook their own meals at the village, made up of 15-foot teepees, and they travel in Pontiac station wagons. They also have a 50-foot trailer for their horses.

Chief Spotted Horse is declared to be the last surviving chief of the Arapahos, one of the plains tribes.

STEEL MILL EMPLOYE ENDS LIFE AT ASHLEY

Coroner Rules Suicide in Gun Shot Wound Death.

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, July 31—John Hollenbach, 40, who lived on the former Al Denton farm two and a half miles north of Ashley in Morrow county and an employe of the Pollak Steel Co. in Marion, was found dead in his home about 10:55 last night of a gun shot wound. Dr. Frank S. Sweeney, Morrow county coroner, pronounced the death suicide, and stated death had occurred about 6:30 p. m. Two notes were found indicating Mr. Hollenbach was despondent. He was a veteran of World War II and had served overseas. April 27, this year, he married Alice Marie Mattix. At that time they moved from Marion. The farm on which they lived, now owned by Keith Mattix, brother of Mrs. Hollenbach.

The husband's body was discovered by a sister of Mrs. Hollenbach, Mrs. Luella Clark, 25, who with her husband, Joseph Clark, 29, resided with the Hollenbachs. Mrs. Hollenbach was also employed at the Pollak Steel Co., and in one of the notes written by Hollenbach and found by the Clarks, he had directed them to go for his wife at 1 o'clock, Morrow County Sheriff Tom England stated. Both the Hollenbachs were employed on the second shift at the steel plant and Mr. Hollenbach had taken his wife to work then returned home because he felt ill.

Surviving Mr. Hollenbach besides his widow are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hollenbach of 245 Bellevue avenue, Marion, and a sister and brothers, Miss Ruth Hollenbach and Forrest Hollenbach, both at home, and Carroll Hollenbach of East Farming street, Marion. He served three years in the army and was overseas a year and a half with duty in several countries including Italy, Belgium and Germany. He was a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the Eagles Lodge in Marion.

The body was taken to the C. R. Lee funeral home in Ashley. Funeral arrangements were not complete at noon today.

TAFT

just closed "a great success" and said Republicans should take all possible advantage of its record by speaking out on it to the people.

He added that on the basis of that record, he believed the Republican party was entitled to the support of the people at the next election.

To Speak Tonight

Taft will speak on the accomplishments of the Republican-controlled congress at a rally tonight and will discuss that record on a speaking trip in the west in September. He was expected to give his decision on whether he will run at the conclusion of that trip.

Asked what he would consider a safe minimum of sure convention delegates before making up his mind, Taft said "you can't wait for delegates to make up your mind." He added there are not many states where any potential candidate controls the yet to be named delegates. He said a prospective candidate must make up his mind rather on the "probabilities of ballots" in the convention, adding there is no reason why delegates should make up their minds a year before the convention.

Taft reiterated that all Republicans should discuss public questions before the next congress meets, since Republicans will fix the policies of the next session.

He said he meant "no implications as to any particular people," but when asked whether all Republicans would include Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, replied:

"I imagine so."

Bricker Bows Out

Senator Taft had the right of way today from his junior colleague, Sen. John W. Bricker, 1944 vice presidential nominee, to seek the presidential nomination.

Bricker officially stepped out of Taft's path on the eve of a mammoth Ohio G. O. P. rally that state political observers were certain would launch a Taft-for-President campaign on a "favorite son" basis sometime around noon.

The man who campaigned with New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey against the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman three years ago, stated definitely he was not running for anything in 1948. The announcement came as no surprise here since Bricker's position with respect to any Taft presidential aspirations had been rumored for some time.

State party leaders forecast that unanimous indorsement for Taft's candidacy would come from a noon meeting of the 44-member G. O. P. state committee and a separate conference of the state's Republican delegation in congress.

Taft will withhold a definite announcement about his candidacy until he returns from a sentiment-sounding west-east speaking trip in the fall.

However, party chiefs and newspapermen who talked with him after he arrived last night had little doubt that his answer would be "I'm in the race."

Under state law, candidates for delegate to the national convention must file 60 days before the primary May 4, 1948. Besides stating their first and second choices they also must have the written consent of the presidential candidates they wish to support.

Taft's associates expect his announcement sometime after this November's Ohio municipal elections because that is the time delegate candidates start forming a slate.

Tonight's big Taft rally will be topped off with a "recognition dinner" for state representatives in congress and the state legislature. Taft will speak 30 minutes on the record of the recent session of congress. The talk will be broadcast over 250 stations.

Approximately 1,270 have made reservations including Republican leaders from Indiana, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and Tennessee.

Bricker took the initial play away from the state committee which had advertised the Taft boom would be set off at today's round of meetings.

Bricker said that he had told Taft as far back as last December that he would gladly step aside for him in 1948 as Taft did for him in 1944. He said Taft then advised a delay in Bricker's announcement until after congress adjourned but last week told Bricker he would go west in September and might have something to say about 1948 on his return.

Will Do Anything

"I told Taft I would do anything I could in the campaign for him," said Bricker.

"Is this an unqualified endorsement?" a reporter asked.

"Oh, sure," Bricker replied.

"Does this completely remove you from the picture in 1948?"

"It doesn't remove me because I've never been in. I've never had any idea of being a candidate."

That goes for the vice-presidential nomination too, Bricker added.

Asked if he would decline the presidential nomination if a deadlock developed between Taft and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and the convention beckoned his way, the former three-term Ohio governor smiled and answered:

"No man who loves his country, believes in representative government, and believes in the principles of his party would do that unless he had personal reasons. I don't anticipate anything like that ever happening."

At Flint, Mich., last night, Dewey smilingly commented upon the Bricker move with a sardonic "I'm surprised."

Ohio will have 53 delegates to the Republican national convention next June. State leaders said all will be "solid" for Taft. They are making no claims as yet on other state delegations.

Zanesville Publishing Company Sued for Libel

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., July 31—Earl J. Jones, Zanesville publisher, filed in Muskingum county common pleas court yesterday a $1,000,000 conspiracy and libel action against the Zanesville Publishing Co.; its president and general manager, O. B. Littick, and Secretary-Treasurer H. Clay Littick.

The Jones petition charged the company and its executives—publishers of the Zanesville Times-Recorder, Signal and the Sunday Times-Signal—with conspiring to libel the plaintiff in a number of stories concerning differences between Jones and a Zanesville radio newscaster.

The newscaster, John Peart, had sued Jones for $100,000 damages for injuries he alleges he received when the Zanesville publisher pushed him last April 18. The alleged incident took place, Peart charged in Jones' Bailey's-on-Main drug store.

Jones is publisher on the Zanesville News, a competitor of the Littick papers.

25 Firemen Cool Off After Hot False Alarm

By International News Service

CHICAGO, July 31—Twenty-five Chicago firemen were cooling off today after indignation, a lot of fruitless exercise and an outdoor temperature of 96.8 sent up their blood pressure.

As Chicago sweltered on the hottest day of the year, the firemen responded to an alarm on the 22nd floor of a Loop building. They arrived to find the elevators out of order. All 25 men walked up the 22 floors carrying hose and other equipment.

After the long climb they were greeted by a building engineer who had put out the fire with a hand extinguisher.

Union Flouts Labor Law, Daring Taft To Try Something

By The United Press

INDIANAPOLIS, July 31—The AFL international teamsters union deliberately violated the Taft-Hartley labor law today and tauntingly defied Sen. Robert A. Tafe, "to do something" about the violation.

The union's magazine, the International Teamster, published the names of the congressmen who voted for the measure over President Truman's veto beneath the headline: "Here Are Your Enemies."

"Senator Taft says we can't tell you this (how to vote). He says this is a violation of the law he wrote," an accompanying editorial said. "Well, that's just too bad. But we are doing it. If Senator Taft wants to do anything about it, let him get started."

"The next move is up to Taft," the editorial said. "Let him file charges...and then we can go into court and find out what the Constitution means."

The editorial said the union's attorneys had advised that the provision of the law which forbids political activity by unions was unconstitutional. The magazine, edited by Union President Daniel J. Tobin, said it had been advisd by General Counsel Joseph A. Padway to print the voting records of congress "on this and all other matters of interest to labor."

It was the second time the union had challenged the constitutionality of the act.

ROBBER

demanding the rings. Once he warned Mrs. Williams to go back into the house before she got hurt.

After demanding the rings he tried to pull them from Williams' hand. Williams said the dark handkerchief the man wore over the lower part of his face billowed out as he was stooped over and he recognized him as someone he had seen frequently around town.

The entire neighborhood was roused by the noise and cries for help from Mrs. Williams and the children. Dr. Sheehe was the first to come to Williams' assistance.

While Dr. Sheehe reached the sidewalk the bandit brandished the revolver toward him and started backing slowly toward the street. When he reached the Williams car, he turned suddenly and ran across West Columbia and disappeared between two houses on the south side of the street. Dr. Sheehe, in his bare feet, was unable to give chase.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams told police they recognized the robber as a man they knew casually. They said they had had no previous trouble with him.

Mrs. Williams said she believed there had been some one hanging around the house periodically during the past couple of weeks since the dog barked occasionally at night. She said a few days ago the dog was injured one night when he had apparently been kicked. She thought it might have been the man who made the attack last night since the dog seemed to dislike him.

Living at the West Columbia street address are Mr. and Mrs. Williams, a 16-year-old daughter, Reatha, and a small son, John Jr., 3½ years.

Age Pension Payments Ruled Personal Funds

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, July 31—State old age pension payments to an inmate of a county home are the inmate's personal funds, Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins advised Prosecutor Russell C. Price of Wyandot county today.

Jenkins held in his opinion that if the funds are used to pay for the inmate's support in a county home, they must be deposited with the county treasurer and used only for the benefit of the individual inmate.

Any balance remaining after support and maintenance cost is "in the nature of trust funds and as such must be strictly accounted for," Jenkins ruled.

Several scientific studies have indicated that good diet alone can stop tooth decay.

Fair Gilt Exhibit Program Planned

The Chamber of Commerce Agricultural committee in a luncheon meeting yesterday at the Harding hotel made plans for the exhibit at Marion county fair of registered gilts and litters by the eight boys entered in the Chamber sponsored bred gilt program.

Marion Clark, committee chairman, reported prizes were to be awarded each entry as follows: first, $10; second $7.50; third, $5 and fourth to eighth, all $3. The gilt must be shown but the lad may or may not exhibit the litter as she chooses, Mr. Clark said.

The eight Marion county boys who will exhibit in the special class which will comply with the Junior fair regulations, are John Forrey of Morral, Paul Seiter of Big Island, Richard Reece of Waldo, Joe Lawrence of east of Marion, Dale Rinehart of Caledonia, Donald Johnson of Big Island and Donald and Ray Redd of LaRue.

Plans for the 1948 contest are already under way with registered gilts having been given to the following youths: Paul Carr of Prospect, Carl Rengert of Waldo, Myron Sandridge of Morral, Charles Fogle of Marion, Thomas Guthrie of LaRue, Roger Augentine of near Galion, Robert Williams of Morral and Richard Larcom of Waldo.

HUGHES

ing by the Kaiser-Hughes interests.

("Pirating" was a term applied during the war when one firm hired away another's employes).

"Yes, sir," Lovett replied.

He said some months after award of the flying boat contract, he had reports from a Boeing aircraft subsidiary in Wichita, Kas., that "there had been hiring squads trying to pick up labor at the gates."

In reply to another question, he said they represented the Kaiser management.

Before today's committee session began, Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said an aircraft expert's appraisal of Hughes' F-11 photo-reconnaissance plane as a "hot wagon" indicated Elliott Roosevelt had grounds for purportedly pushing wartime construction of the ship.

Pepper told a reporter he thinks the chief question before the senate war investigating committee in its investigation of war-time plane contracts held by Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser is whether young Roosevelt was justified in recommending that work on the photo ship be continued.

Merit To Be Guide

"I have no doubt that it will be shown that Elliott Roosevelt accepted entertainment from representatives of Hughes," the Florida senator said. "It will be up to Roosevelt and Hughes to show that the plane in question was as they represented it."

The committee already has heard testimony behind closed doors from John Meyer, Hughes' publicity man, that he spent large sums entertaining high officials, including the president's son, in the period preceding what he described as Elliott's recommendation in 1944 that work be continued on the F-11.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) announced that Meyer will return from Paris Friday and may be put on the stand at the public hearings this week.

Orders Hughes To Appear

Ferguson, also reported that he wired and talked by telephone with Hughes yesterday, telling the multi-millionaire plane builder and movie maker to be on hand today "or not later than" tomorrow.

The senator said Hughes told him by telephone he was busy testing the F-11, adding that the prospective witness "did not say he would or would not be here." Hughes originally was scheduled to be among the last to appear.

The F-11 is one of two plane types involved in the committee's inquiry into how Hughes and Kaiser got some $40,000,000 in government contracts and why none of the craft has been put into use by the armed services.

Truman Signs Flood Control Legislation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—President Truman signed today a $502,123,912 appropriation bill for flood control, navigation and other non-military activities of the war department.

One of the last measures approved by the 80th congress before the July 26 recess, it carries $298,334,825 for flood control construction and maintenance, plus $116,718,700 for navigation improvements and maintenance during the year ending next June 30.

Rep. Brown Expected To Guide Taft-for-President Movement

By EARL BERKLEY
Associated Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 31—Either as official campaign manager or from the sidelines, Rep. Clarence J. Brown will direct the Taft-for-President campaign, say Ohioans in Washington.

Brown's place in the picture was forecast even prior to the Columbus rally called today to give the Ohio senator the state's favorite son support for the Republican nomination.

The Blanchester publisher was picked as the logical man to carry forward the Taft drive long before Ohio party leaders got together on their choice for president. Browns' success as campaign director of the G.O.P. congressional contest in 1946 is cited by Ohio Republicans as evidence of his ability to solidify party interests.

Brown insists that he'd prefer to be on the sidelines in the presidential maneuvers.

But Ohioans here are sure that Brown has the chance to turn down the managership. If he does, he'll help direct the campaign from the background without having to worry about too many details.

Ohio, like Michigan, has two chances to win the presidency for a native son, for Senator Bricker—three times governor of the Buckeye state—remains a prospective nominee despite his announced support of Taft.

Michigan's two chances are represented by the state's senior senator, Arthur Vandenberg, and Dewey. Both are native of that state.

Vandenberg is considered a possible choice of the national convention in the event of a deadlock which conceivably could eliminate Dewey and Taft. And Bricker could be the choice under like circumstances, although his support of Taft is wholehearted and enthusiastic.

It is an old custom for Taft and Bricker to return favors in the matter of presidential politics. Taft got out of the race in favor of Bricker in 1944. The former governor lost the presidential nomination but became Dewey's running mate for vice president.

This time Bricker has made it plain and emphatic that he is going to be a senator throughout his term and back Taft for president.

Rent Control Office Hedges

Decides Against Any Further Lifting of Ceilings in 614 Areas.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—The federal rent control office, with a wary eye on congress, has decided against further action on its own to lift ceilings from any of the 614 areas remaining under control.

Future policy, an agency official told a reporter private today, will be for the federal office to check the decontrol question to the local advisory boards authorized under the new rent law enacted last month.

Although the law provides that Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon, who administers rent regulations, may lift ceilings if conditions warrant, it also gives the local boards a strong voice in their own areas.

No Delay Seen

The official emphasized that the new policy is not delaying any decontrol actions "since none are up for approval at present."

However, he said that should the agency—before the boards are set up for business—develop evidence that decontrol "might be warranted" in any of the areas, "it likely would wait for recommendations from the local board rather than going ahead on its own."

Another official said information which "might lead to decontrol of some fringe sections of several areas" is being gathered and will be submitted "when the boards are ready to begin their studies."

"Bowing to Congress"

"Certainly congress wanted the boards to have a strong voice in operation of the new law," this official said, "and it seems only right they should pass on decontrol matters."

Congress when it returns in January will have to decide shortly whether it wants to extend controls beyond Feb. 29, the new expiration date.

Control officials said it is up to the various governors "to decide how quickly the boards will begin functioning."

Under terms of the new control act which became law July 1, Creedon was directed to appoint local boards of at least five members each on recommendations submitted by the governors.

CENTRAL SOYA TO PAY EXTRA $1 DIVIDEND

Regular Quarterly Payment of 25 Cents Also Ordered.

The Central Soya Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind., operators of the McMillen Feed Mill here, has declared an extra dividend of $1 a share in addition to the regular 25-cent a share quarterly dividend, stockholders were advised today in a letter from D. W. McMillen, chairman of the board. Both dividends are payable Aug. 15 to shareholders of record at the close of business Aug. 5.

The sales of Central Soya company for the nine months ended June 30, 1947, amounted to $63,117,359 as compared with $41,881,198 for the same period last year or an increase of 50 per cent, and that the net profit for the nine-month period amounted to $5,006,526 as compared with $1,619,632.

Mr. McMillen stated in his letter to stockholders that the expansion program of the company this year, which includes the cost of acquisition and improvement of a feed plant at Memphis, Tenn., and a large addition to the soya operation at the Gibson City, Ill., plant, would amount to about four and one-half million dollars; that the total cost of our expansion and improvement program would be paid out of the net earnings for the current eleven month fiscal year. The dividend, which will be paid on Aug. 15, will make a total of $2 paid for the current fiscal year as compared with $1 for the previous fiscal year. After provisions for funds necessary for the expansion program and the payment of dividends to stockholders, it is anticipated that the company will still add to its working capital between one and one-half and two million dollars, for the current eleven months fiscal year.

Ghostly "If" Reigns At Ohio Boy's Party

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 31—Little Ralph Kreutzer will have a big sixth birthday party tomorrow, if—

For one thing, he's expected to die within a few weeks at the most.

For another, it may be necessary to rush him to a hospital for another blood transfusion just to keep him going.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kreutzer, is a victim of leukemia. Stricken in April, he has had six blood transfusions so far. His mother said his death is expected within weeks "unless a miracle happens."

But the boy hasn't been told that this coming birthday probably will be his last. He does know that the neighborhood kids are supposed to come in, and there'll be ice cream and cake, and horns, and paper hats.

...period "already has ... great plains states, ... soil conservation ...alist at Amarillo, ... He said the spread ... of wind erosion ... on the amount of ... fall moisture and the ... spring's winds.

... Chalmers, Colorado ...tionist, added that ... region was "on the ... another dust bowl which ... the last one look like ... game."

These comments were brought out in an Associated Press survey of what is being done in the west to help stop an estimated land erosion loss to the nation of $4,000,000,000 a year.

D. Harper Simms of the U. S. Soil conservation office at Albuquerque, N. M., reported many individual conservation farmers in Colorado and New Mexico "are trying to point the way to the best sustained use of the plains land in the face of a big land plow-up and speculation movement which is not concerned with long-time use of the land.

"Plows Run Around Clock"

"Plows run around the clock breaking out thousands of acres of virgin sod for the planting of wheat. Much of this land is unsuited for cultivation.

"Many of these speculators now breaking out sod claim that fallowing is the only practice necessary to hold the topsoil. However, with the first long dry spell their land will be taking off. Even with the excellent moisture conditions this year, there was considerable soil blowing on several occasions in February."

Simms described "suitcase farmers" as those who buy up grassland, plow it and plant it to wheat, now selling at high prices in hopes of getting one or more good crops. Then with the first crop failure they pack up and leave the bare soil open to the wind.

For contrast he pointed to land utilization projects in Baca county, Colo., and Union county, N. M.

"Both areas were in the former dust bowl. The land has been brought back to good grazing capacity through regrassing programs.

"In the Baca county project 180,000 acres of formerly barren and blowing land now can carry 3,000 animal units year long. A unit is calculated as one cow or five sheep.

"In the union county project, 51,987 acres of formerly useless grazing land carried 1,008 units all last year."

Such paradoxes of land saving and land loss are not confined to the southwest, however. Wherever soil is loose and bared for any length of time, as it often is in fall and spring, the winds quickly whip it away and set the stage for desert conditions.

Southwest Suffers Most

But nowhere is the situation so aggravated as in an area including and surrounding the Texas panhandle, taking in parts of six states—New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Texas itself.

Soil conservationists estimate the loss at many millions of dollars annually, but contend it can be completely eliminated and this potential "great American Sahara" stopped with correct farm management practices. With irrigation, they say, suitable drylands can add immeasurably to the nation's agricultural output; while salvaged grazing lands can improve beef production.

The 21,000,000 acres under irrigation so far, out of the 700,000,000 acres of land in the great plains, produce 54 per cent of that area's entire farm income, yet the region as a whole averages less than 20 inches of rainfall a year.

When dusts starts blowing, soil men point out, it "drowns out" other land areas, even those where conservation methods are in use, filling in ditches and irrigation systems.

Land utilization projects now in operation in several areas in Kansas and Nebraska cover some 20,000,000 acres, said Harold J. Swan of the regional conservation office in Lincoln, Neb.

"These projects are located," Swan said, "with only a couple of exceptions, in the range country where homesteading placed people on lands where average annual rainfall is not enough for cultivated crops."

Although Congress Has Quit, Committees Keep on Working

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 31—It's still a busy season for lots of congressmen even though the full congress has quit for 1947.

That full congress—it's the full congress which passes laws—won't be back till next January.

So now most congressmen are flocking home where, as usual, they're supposed to learn what the home-folks think of the job they did.

James Marlow

But between now and January plenty of congressional committees, which means plenty of congressmen, will have plenty to do.

Some of the work cut out for the committees will take congressmen to Europe, Asia, Latin America and all over the United States.

Some of the committees' work will make headlines, some will be dull routine.

Some will be in the form of investigations, some will be to get information on which congress can pass laws next year.

This kind of between-sessions committee work isn't unusual. It happens after each session ends.

Number Is Unusual

But the number of committees working between now and January is unusually large. And so are some of the trips they'll take.

The house members will be much bigger travelers than the senators.

Members of two separate house committees—the foreign affairs committee and a special 18-man committee—will visit Europe, Asia, Latin America.

They'll get information to be used when the full congress starts talking about help for other nations.

Then there's the business of investigation. In an off-season like this, congressional investigations make headlines.

For example:

The senate war investigating committee is supposed to dig into war contracts and the profits made from them.

At this moment the committee is busy asking questions about Howard Hughes and Henry Kaiser, who took on a big wartime plane contract.

Red Probe Begins

The house committee on un-American activities wants to poke around Hollywood doings to see what influence, if any, the Communists have there.

And house subcommittees will be rooting around in the sale of surplus war property and in government publicity.

A couple of subcommittees of the house labor committee will look for any signs of racketeering in the home-building industry and for any labor union misdeeds in Hollywood.

Two special committees made up of both senate and house members will make trips back and forth across the country to look into (A) the whole housing situation and (B) high prices in general.

Then there's the house agriculture committee. It will hold hearings around the country to get information for a government farm program, maybe next year.

The senate finance committee will collect information on social security and how it's handled.

The house ways and means committee will be working on taxes—or, at least, its expert staff will—in case congress wants to cut or revise taxes in 1948.

And the house committees on the armed services and public works will be putting information together for possible law-making next year.

Youth Breaks Leg In Cycle Spill at Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 31—Billy Corfman, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Corfman of Upper Sandusky, was in Bucyrus hospital today for treatment for injuries received here Tuesday night in a bicycle accident. Most serious of the injuries was a broken left leg, below the knee. Billy was riding down Kirby hill on the gravel path along Route 30-N toward the Harrison Smith park entrance when his bike swerved and hit a guide post along the edge of the embankment. Night Policeman Charles Schwabel called the Bringman ambulance. The boy was given first aid at the office of an Upper Sandusky physician and taken to the hospital shortly after 9 o'clock.

Railroads Rebuked For Criticism of Workers

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 31—President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen threw a few verbal blows at American railroads yesterday for their criticism, he said, of railway workers.

Whitney declared: "American railroads, in newspaper advertisements, have tried to lead the public to believe that the hard-working, highly efficient railway workers are shiftless Americans who are attempting to get something for nothing."

He said railroad carriers and employe representatives would meet in the near future to consider modernization of working rules, which "have not been generally revised for a quarter of a century, despite vast changes that have taken place in the industry."

NAZI HANGS SELF

By International News Service

NUERNBERG, July 31—Former Nazi SS Col. Erich Harsmann, a defendant in the war crimes trial of Hitler's Elite Guardsmen, committed suicide early today in the U. S. military hospital at Nuernberg. Hausmann hanged himself, using the belt of the bathrobe which was given to him when he entered the hospital for treatment.

DILLON DAM WORK DELAYED TILL 1948

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—Actual construction of the Dillon reservoir in Ohio will be delayed at least until the fiscal year beginning next July 1, army engineers said yesterday.

The war department civil functions appropriations bill, now awaiting approval by President Truman, carries $2,000,000 for the flood control project, $1,400,000 less than was requested by the engineers for the current fiscal year.

This money, the engineers said, will be used for continuing preliminary work, principally the relocation of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Construction of the dam itself and related works can not proceed until the relocation job is virtually completed, they said.

The railroad phase of the project got under way in June, 1946.

The $2,000,000 appropriation this year brings to nearly $4,000,000 the amount made available for the project since it was authorized. Engineers estimate that an additional $7,397,200 will be needed to complete the project after July 1, 1948.

The engineers have not decided how much they will request on that date, but they said they could not spend the total in one year and therefore would not recommend the full amount in next year's appropriation bill.

A bill by Rep J. Harry McGregor (R-Ohio) to cancel authorization for the project failed of action by congress before last week's adjournment.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Neuralgia of Face

In the whole catalog of pain, there is probably no pain more devastating than that produced by the condition known as trigeminal, or facial, neuralgia. While not serious in itself, this condition is responsible for such intolerable agony that it may have disastrous consequences. According to Dr Paul C Bucy, of Chicago, if it is not relieved it may even lead to suicide.

Victims of trigeminal neuralgia frequently becomes recluses, refusing all companionship and concentrating their lives on the one object of avoiding pain.

Since painful attacks are often brought on by talking, eating, or touching the face, such patients remain silent, refuse to eat and become dirty and unkempt through fear of touching the head or face.

It is possible in some cases to relieve the pain of trigeminal neuralgia temporarily by injecting alcohol into a nerve. Some cases have been relieved by the use of large doses of vitamin B-complex. However, often these methods do not suffice, and operation for cutting the nerve is necessary.

According to Dr. Bucy, no patient is too old to have this operation carried out. It is possible to obtain complete relief by such operation, even in patients of advanced age who have been weakened by some disease such as high blood pressure, diabetes or lung disorders.

The operation usually requires from 30 to 60 minutes to complete. Immediately after the operation, the patient is allowed to sit up, and occasionally is even allowed out of bed on the first day. About the fourth or sixth day, he is discharged from the hospital.

Although some sensation is lost in the fact, the appearance of the face and the movement of the muscles is little changed. If any paralysis does occur, which may happen occasionally, it usually disappears within a few weeks.

In some cases, it is necessary to cut the branches of the nerve which serves the eye. This renders the first part of the eyeball, or cornea insensitive. In such instances, the eye must be protected against bits of dust and other material which may get into it and not be noticed, because of the lack of sensation.

This is done by cleansing the eye each morning and night, keeping the hands and fingers away from the eye, and wearing a transparent shield over the eye when out of doors. If the eye should become inflamed in spite of these precautions any object in it should be removed and the eye washed out with an antiseptic solution.

Plant Manager Here Promoted

Wayne S. Zerkel of McMillen Feed Advanced by Central Soya Company.

D. W. McMillen, chairman of the board of Central Soya Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., today announced the promotion of Wayne S. Zerkel from plant manager of the McMillen Feed Mill and procuring plant here to complete supervision of the building of additional facilities to be erected at the Memphis, Tenn., plant recently acquired by the Central Soya Co.

In announcing the promotion Mr. McMillen said "It affords me a great deal of pleasure to see Mr. Zerkel, who started in a minor position in the company soon after it was organized, advanced to this position of responsibility."

Mr. Zerkel started with the company in the feed mill soon after it was organized. He has successively held the positions at assistant superintendent of feeds at Decatur, Ill., and superintendent at Gibson City before being transferred to Ft. Wayne, Ind. where he was placed in charge of feed plant operation in all company plants. In 1943, he was placed in charge of the rebuilding and rehabilitation of the McMillen plant here, which was acquired in 1942 by the Central Soya Co. He has remained as plant manager until the present time.

When Mr. Zerkel leaves for Memphis Friday, his position will be filled by the present assistant manager, William Charle of 476 Delaware avenue. He came to Marion in December, 1946, after undergoing training for plant manager at the Decatur plant of the company.

A graduate of the University of Illinois, class of '37, he served in the Navy as a lieutenant commander before becoming affiliated with Central Soya in May of last year. Prior to the war he was associated with the Kimberly Clark Paper Corp. of Ft. Wayne.

SIX TRUCKS IN 4 ACCIDENTS

Patrol Reports Mishaps in Area; Two Collision in Police Report.

Four accidents involving six trucks were listed in state patrol records this morning. City police also reported two accidents.

At 3:30 a. m. today, on route 42 two miles south of Ashley, one truck cut another, that was broken down on the highway, from the rear. Driver of the parked truck was Ralph Downton, 21, of Columbus and the truck that cut from the rear was driven by Frank Crayton, 59, of Miami Springs, Fla. Both drivers were slightly injured and Arthur Davis, 52 of Grove C., Jack Eddie, 47, who gave no address, and George Schofield, 16 of Pataskala, O., passengers in the trucks, all suffered bruises. Both trucks were damaged.

Cars driven by Paul Benson, 19, of the Veteran's housing project on West Fairground street and John H. Tyler, 23, of the Scioto Inn on North Main street were involved in an accident on route 529 near Marion at 8:10 last night. It happened when Tyler started to make a left-hand turn and Benson tried to pass him. Damage to both cars was slight and there were no injuries.

Trucks driven by Leonard Kelton 21, of Murfreesboro, Tenn. and Chancie McNamee, 33, of Springfield were in an accident two miles east of Mt. Gilead at 5:30 p. m. yesterday. Driver Kelton slowed down to avoid hitting a dog and the McNamee truck hit him from the rear. The front of the McNamee truck was damaged considerably.

At 12:15 a. m. today Robert Reece 20 of Galion lost control of the pickup truck he was driving. It hit a culvert and overturned. The accident occurred on route 30 south, about four miles south of Galion. Reece suffered bruises of the right leg and arm. The truck was badly damaged.

A minor automobile accident occurred yesterday morning at 7 at Main and Center street, police reported. A car owned by Mrs. Maple Yurry of near Caledonia was parked on the West Center street corner and was struck by a car operated by Martin J. Dawson of 301 Belmont street. Slight damage was reported to both vehicles.

Another accident at 10:30 last night involved a car parked at Lincoln park and one driven by Mrs. Audrey Reinke of 443 Davids street. The Reinke auto was backing and hit the left front fender of the parked car. The driver of the parked car was unknown. Damage to both was slight.

CONGRESS MAY YET KILL DILLON DAM

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—Congress, which has already appropriated nearly $5,000,000 for the Dillon dam flood control project, still will have another opportunity to act upon legislation to kill the project before actual construction begins if it desires.

An allotment of $2,000,000 for the current fiscal year will be only enough to continue railroad relocation and other preliminary work which must be completed before the reservoir may be started. This allotment is $1,400,000 less than requested for the preliminary work. Army engineers told reporters yesterday.

Legislation to kill the project was introduced by Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) during the last session, but congress failed to act on it before adjournment last week. McGregor has announced his intention to push the measure when congress returns next January.

Rep. Griffiths, another Ohio Republican is opposing the measure.

Engineers say that they will need an additional $1,400,000 to wind up preliminary work economically. They have not indicated how much of the $8,797,300 needed to complete the whole project they will request next year.

Rep. Engel (R-Mich) in charge of the appropriations in the house, said last week that he would support appropriations for all authorized projects. In the case of the Dillon reservoir, he voted to cut the engineers' request for the current year from $3,400,000 to $2,000,000.

APPEAL ON BEHALF OF REFUGEES MADE

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 31—The French cabinet weighed today a national assembly resolution urging it to press Britain for a speedy and humane solution to the vexing problem posed by 4,500 Jewish refugees who are staging a sit-down on three British transports anchored off France's Mediterranean coast.

The resolution was adopted late yesterday by unanimous vote of the assembly, which also congratulated the French government for not attempting to impose a course of action upon the Jews.

Dispatches from Port-De-Bouc on France's southern coast reported meanwhile signs of growing restlessness among the ship-bound Jews, who have refused to disembark in protest against being shipped back to France after a fruitless attempt to crash the gates of Palestine.

The discomforts of life aboard the crowded ships, which left Palestine almost three weeks ago, were increased by extremely hot weather and by a shortage of rations.

Some observers in Port-de-Bouc frankly expressed belief that the British were playing a waiting game, hoping that the broiling sun might change the Jews' minds about going ashore.

Advices from London, however indicated that the British government was at a loss as to how to deal with the problem.

British sources said it seemed out of the question to disembark the Jews forcibly. The only alternatives, they said, appeared to be to send them to detention camps in Cyprus or take them to some other European port under British authority—such as Hamburg.

The situation was complicated by the fact that the convoy was not provisioned for a long voyage.

Most diabetic patients were overweight before contracting the disease.

Socially Registered Socialist Takes Baltimore

BALTIMORE — "Miss Lizzie," now in her eightieth year, is one of America's unusual women.

A blue-blooded Socialist from the social register, Elisabeth Gilman is Maryland's grand old lady of dissent—a follower of political causes who has won her city's heart by long integrity, and warm charity.

Mal Bovie

Of her someone once remarked:

"Baltimore is entitled to one liberal."

"Miss Lizzie" also has been called a reformer and a "hound of heaven extraordinary." She has been six times voted down in tries for public office on the Socialist ticket—she's run for sheriff, mayor, governor and senator—but many critics of her politics believe she would easily win any poll to pick Baltimore's outstanding woman.

Loved for Toughness

She is loved—her politics aside—for the selfless way in which she has fought for people in trouble, and the vigor with which she carried out her lifelong slogan:

"If you see a thing that's right, do it."

Partly deaf now and a semi-invalid, she must rest at last with her goal still uncompleted: "To Christianize the social order."

The daughter of Daniel Coit Gilman, first president of the Johns Hopkins university, she learned unorthodoxy from her father, a "Mugwump" in both politics and education.

"I first began to 'wump' in 1916," she said, recalling her dawning belief that the evils of poverty and recurrent unemployment could be cured only through major changes in the social order.

She left her own fashionable home to organize food kitchens during mill and coal mine strikes and on occasion marched on the picket line herself carrying a placard."

"Roosevelt Stole Thunder"

A small and sprightly woman with great energy, she threw herself into Socialist-sponsored campaigns for slum clearance, public ownership of utilities, labor gains and old age insurance. Two years ago, cheerfully foreseeing defeat in her second campaign for governor, she said:

"Franklin Roosevelt stole a good deal of our thunder, but all of us in the United States should be grateful for that."

Her activities cost her some old friendships, but she kept her sense of humor and insisted that it was fun to be a "radical."

She became interested in psychology in middle life and earned a university degree at 54. At 62, when she first ran for public office, she studied public speaking in order to needle her democratic and republican opponents more expertly.

She has spent her own money freely in unpublicized charities and helped some 25 boys go through Johns Hopkins.

In Baltimore they'll do anything now for "Miss Lizzie"—anything but vote for her.

Young People Invited To Y Dance Tonight

All young persons out of high school are invited to the sport dance at Y. M. C. A. in Club Co-Ed tonight from 9 to 12.

It is part of a program to provide recreation for the young persons. The American Legion is also working on such a project, but it is apart from the work being done by the Y. The programs are so that there is no conflict.

Entertainment, dancing, and games are on tonight's program. The soda fountain will be open. No admission will be charged.

A lecture on "humology" will be given by Knute Hoflus and Dick Grimm, popular as a high school crooner several years ago, will sing. He will be accompanied by Miss Virginia Grover.

Index of Farm Prices Moves Up 2 Per Cent

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—The agriculture department's index of farm prices rose to 276 on July 15, two per cent above the mid-June mark of 271. The new increase was the first since March and moved the index within 1-4 per cent of the March peak index of 280.

While prices received by farmers were rising, the parity price index — prices paid by farmers —remained stationary at its all-time peak of 231. As a result, farmers on July 15 were receiving 19 per cent more than parity for their products on the average. Farm prices were 17 per cent higher than parity during the previous period.

Egg Salads for Summer

EGG SALAD . . . Main dish for summer luncheon . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Sure! Everybody's had egg salad—particularly in drugstore sandwiches It means hard-cooked eggs, chopped coarsely, combined with mayonnaise and served with lettuce between pieces of bread, or just in a bowl! It's good, too.

However, there are more ways than one to get eggs into your salads, and since they offer enough protein so that you can serve such salads, eliminating the meat from a meal, it's good to know a variety of ways to use them in fine summer dishes.

Mixed Green Salad with Eggs

Lettuce, dandelion greens, sorrel, fresh basil (or dried), 2 tomatoes, peeled and quartered, 1 avocado, sliced, 2 hard-cooked eggs, 1 small tin anchovy fillets, chopped, simple French dressing

First make the simple French dressing in your wooden bowl, using oil and vinegar in the proportion of three to one, salt, and freshly ground pepper. I suggest that you add nothing more, so that the full delicate flavor of the greens isn't overcome by the dressing. Let the dressing stand at least a half hour before adding the greens. They should have been well washed, drained, and crisped in the refrigerator for some hours Tear the greens with your hands right into the bowl. Add the tomatoes, the hard-cooked eggs, chopped fine, and the anchovy fillets If fresh basil is used, chop it fine. Remember that dried herbs are far stronger than fresh and go very easy in adding them—half as much as you'd think is a good rule to follow. Toss the ingredients now in the bowl with the dressing and when every leaf is coated, slice the avocado over the top Sprinkle with a dash of paprika for color.

Western Cottage Salad

¾ cup cottage cheese, ½ cup chopped boiled ham, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup chopped ripe olives, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, ½ cup chopped celery, ¾ cup cooked peas, salad green for garnish, 1 hard-cooked egg, grated, paprika.

Combine cheese, ham, salt, olives, mayonnaise, celery and peas and blend lightly On individual salad plates arrange crisp greens as a base and in the center place mounds of the first mixture. Sprinkle grated egg over the cheese mounds and give the final decoration with a dash of paprika.

Bombers To Fly Over Midwest

100 B-29's To Help Air Forces Celebrate "Day" Friday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—Focusing on Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, a mass formation of approximately 100 B-29 super fortresses will fly over the midwest on Air Forces day Friday.

The Strategic Air Command announced plans for the flight today.

If the weather is good, the lowest echelon of the giant bombers —flying in three "stacks" in the sky at 100 foot intervals—will pass over at about 2 000 feet. On part of the mission the planes will be accompanied by fighters.

The mass flight will be commanded by Brig Gen Roger M Ramey, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force.

Gen. George C Kenney, commanding general of the Strategic Air Force, said at his headquarters here that the purpose of the mission, besides observing the Air Forces 40th anniversary, is to check improvements on formation flying since the recent test sweeps over the east coast.

Beginning about 11 a m. the planes will begin assembling over points in Illinois and Indiana, prior to a final rendezvous over LaFayette, Ill, at 11 31 a. m to begin their sweep over the midwest.

The 7th and 509th Bomb groups of the 8th Air Force will assemble over Terre Haute, Ind; the 49th Bomb group of the 8th Air Force over Effingham, Ill., and the 15th Air Force over Indianapolis, before converging on LaFayette.

They will "strike" Chicago at noon, and Detroit at 2:03 p. m. They will go to Toledo, O, where they are due at 2 19 p m; at Fort Wayne, Ind., 3:44 p. m; and Indianapolis, 3:15 p. m.

P-51 fighter aircraft from the 82nd Fighter group, based at Grenier Field, N. H., will escort the giant bombers over Chicago and Detroit.

Enroute P-80 jet planes from the 56th Fighter group, Selfridge Field, Mich., will intercept and accompany the formation over Detroit.

Marion Man Ranked As Historian in Navy

Franklin K. McClaskey, seaman, first class, USN, son of Mrs Camilla McClaskey of 491 East Fairground street, is going for a historian but that's his classification in the office of public relations, Navy Department, Washington, D C. He compiles data on the U S naval vessels of World War II received from war diaries, commanding officers' reports, war action reports, interviews with crew members, and from various other sources.

In addition to this research work for ships' histories, McClaskey and the five other enlisted members of the department's ships data section must be prepared to answer any questions which may come from the public on the 4 000 ships which took part in the last war.

McClaskey, a former student of Harding High school, entered the Navy Jan 10, 1946, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Camp Peary, Va.

CUBS LOSE SLUGFEST TO RICHMOND, 10 - 9

Graney Jilted by "Lady Luck" As Bruins Fall in Heartbreaker

By DON C. BURTON

Dame Fortune broke a date with John Graney at Lincoln park last night. Instead, the old lady sent along her daughter, Miss Fortune, while she went out with Pete Swain, a gentleman from Indiana. Some 1,337 fans witnessed the jilting.

Young Graney suffered defeat at the hands of the Richmond Roses 10-9, after he had taken over the the burden of pitching with the Cubs behind, 8-2, in the third inning. Graney who suffered his first loss, scattered seven hits in the seven rounds he worked but saw the visitors score an unearned run on him in the eighth frame with the score tied, 9-9.

Witowski Starts

Ed Witowski who started for the Cubs lasted only two-thirds of an inning, giving up four runs. Gasper Pivorunas was no more effective and left with none out in the third after giving up another quartet of runs, all earned.

The unearned tally off Graney came in the eighth inning. Bob Regan, finding Graney hard to hit, tried a bunt and pushed the ball fast at John Smith who failed to come up with it and Regan go to second base. Graney retired the next two men and had two strikes and no balls on Bob Pottenger, a recent Richmond High school graduate.

Graney failed to throw the waste ball and got the third pitch in the groove which Pottenger slammed to right to plate Regan.

Batting Society Meets

The batting society met in the first five innings. The Roses got four runs in the first stanza on five solid hits off Witowski featured by a double by Bidd Brady with the bases full which was followed by a single by Seth Johnson. Johnson went to second on the throw home, but was out at the plate when he tried to score on a single to left by Regan. Wally Rasmussen threw a perfect throw home to catch him.

The Cubs got two runs back in the opening round on a single by Rasmussen, a triple by Dwight Maxhimer and a single by Manager Burbrink.

The Roses went on another rampage in the third. A walk, a single by Bob Verrier and a hit batter loaded the bases again for Bray and again he came through with a hit to tally two runs and give him a total of five runs batted in. A triple by Regan plated the other two runs.

The Cubs got two in the bottom half. A single by Rasmussen and walks to Maxhimer and Burbrink loaded the bases. Wally scored on a passed ball and when the catcher threw wild to the plate Maxhimer scored also.

Locals Come Back

The locals got another duo in the fourth on a walk to Roy Hollingshead, a double by John Smith and another walk to Rasmussen was followed by another single by Burbrink. The Cubs tied the score in the fifth stanza at 8-8. A double by Gene Bobzean, an infield out, a walk to Graney, followed by his steal of second and single by Smith was the ammunition used.

The Cubs took over the lead with a run in the sixth on a double by Shuford and a single by Jim Forbes. The Roses tied it up again in the seventh on singles by Verrier, Vince Pankovits and Seth Johnson.

The two teams tangle again tonight in a single game starting at 8. Bill Rosin is slated for mound duty for the Cubs and Wayne Markley for the Roses.

Zanesville Wins To Stretch Lead To Eight Games

By The Associated Press

Big scores were the order last night when 56 runs scored in three Ohio State league games, the most coming in the only regularly scheduled game—Muncie's 16-7 shellacking of Lima.

In the makeup contests, Zanesville romped to an 11-3 win over Newark; Richmond and Marion battled to a 10-9 score with Marion on the short end.

In each contest the heavy scoring came in the first three innings, Muncie piling up 12 runs in three innings, Zanesville getting six in the first two, and Richmond eight in the first three frames.

Zanesville's victory stretched to eight games the Dodgers lead over Marion, while Richmond moved into sixth place by one slim percentage point, forcing Newark into Seventh. Muncie is firmly in third, ahead of Springfield.

Springfield's Giants have but one percentage point lead over the fifth place Dayton Indians.

The schedule tonight: Muncie at Lima, Richmond at Marion, Springfield at Newark, and Dayton at Zanesville.

Muncie	435 120 100	16 15 2
Lima	002 301 100	7 9 5

What's Bruin?

Manager Rex Carr of the Roses, who recently expressed the opinion that Dwight Maxhimer, Cub outfielder, had a great throwing arm, still showed respect for Max when he held every runner up when the Massillon boy had the ball.

However he failed to realize that the other two Marion outfielders could throw also.

Both Bob Shuford and Wally Rasmussen threw out runners trying to make an extra base.

Wally put a perfect throw to Burbrink at home plate in the first inning to nip Johnson trying to score from second on a single. Shuford hurled the ball to third base to get Dale Craig attempting to go from first to third on a single to right in the eighth. Manager Nelson Burbrink also threw out two of Carr's speedsters trying to steal second and another trying for third after a throw from the outfield came in late at home.

Two of the Roses young performers are recent graduates of Richmond High school: Both Bob Pottenger, outfielder and Wayne Markley, pitcher, signed with the Richmond club after finishing this spring.

An unusual play in last night's game came with Richmond at bat in the sixth. With a man on first base Dale Craig grounded to Gene Bobzean near second. Gene fielded the ball cleanly and set to toss to Hollingshead at second base for the force out. Roy was not at the base and Gene tried for Craig at first, but lost him. The play went into the records as an error for Hollingshead for failing to cover even though he was not in the play.

Pollak Wins; Moose, Tong Deadlock in Softball Action

Pollak Steel turned in an Industrial league win last night as Moose lodge fought an up-hill battle to get a tie with Tong Implement in the Commercial league.

Obenour and Rissler contributed home runs to Pollak's 7-2 win over Ohio Associated Telephone. Obenour got one more hit to tie Willis of Pollak and Greenland of O.A.T. for batting honors.

The 10-10 deadlock after seven complete innings was the second tie that has resulted from a Moose-Tong match. The game was called in seven innings, after Moose had scored four runs in that stanza on three hits, a walk, and a pair of fielder's choices.

Walters of the Moose hit homers in the first and second innings. Braham homered in the fifth, and Butler of Tong homered in the second. Kaelber was leading Tong with two long doubles.

Blackie's String Ends at 16

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 31—Stop 16 is still the end of the line.

Ewell Blackwell, the young California high-pockets, would have liked a lot to have won 17 ball games in a row for the Cincinnati Reds. But, Monty Kennedy bore down a little extra and Buddy Kerr caught one letter-high for a single to center, and the New York Giants broke up Blackwell's hopes, plus those of 13,084 paying fans and 400 visiting 4-H boys from all over Ohio at the ball park yesterday afternoon.

How did it happen?

"Blacky" said he just couldn't get his outside balls across, and the Giants ate up those he threw inside. But, he added, "I'll be doing my best to start a brand-new streak in my next start."

Under Big Strain

Said Johnny Nuen, manager of the Reds: "The kid's been under a terrific strain for weeks. I'm sure he'll be a better pitcher the remainder of the season."

The 5-4 10-inning defeat left Blackwell, a six-foot-fiver who swings and pitches like a gate hinge, in company with four other major league pitchers, all of them greats in some degree, who won 16 straight games but no more. These gentlemen were Smoky Joe Wood of the 1912 Boston Americans, Walter Johnson of Washington, also in 1912, Lefty Bob Grove of the 1931 Philadelphia Athletics, and Schoolboy Lynwood Rowe of the 1934 Detroit Tigers.

Rube Marquard, the legendary one of the New York Giants who was the original working model of the tradition that all southpaws are eccentric, racked up 19 straight back in 1912, and one Tim Keefe did likewise in 1888 when the pitcher's box was only 50 feet out.

Blackwell, who has had trouble in his latest starts, pitched a pretty good ball game by most standards, except for that outside ball.

Walker Cooper caught one of his inside fast ones and sent it into the alley behind the left field fence in the fifth for the first Giant hit of the ball game.

Willard Marshall sent another over the right-center screen in the ninth for the run that tied up the ball game. In the second inning Marshall had sent Bert Haas squarely to the 387-foot mark on the centerfield fence to take a drive with one hand, and again in the fifth, just before Cooper's homer.

But what hurt most was the single Kerr sent over second base in the tenth, for that drove in Marshall with the winning run. Marshall had drawn a walk, one of the three Blackwell gave.

Then Kennedy, the Giants' third pitcher, poured it on in the Reds' half for there straight easy outs, and the high one strode off to the Reds' dressing room with his third defeat of the year instead of his 19th victory.

Indians Look for Third Straight Win Over Boston Club Today

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, July 31 — Cleveland's Indians close their three-game series with Boston today, and none of the Red Sox are sorry to see the Tribe leave town.

The hot-and-cold Tribesmen made it two in a row over the Red Sockers last night, unloading their heavy artillery to win, 13 to 7, before 34,683 fans.

Chalking up their third straight victory on the eastern swing, the Indians scored in only two innings, but that was more than enough as they collected six runs in the first frame and came back with seven more in the sixth.

Don Black recorded his ninth victory although he needed aid from Steve Gromek in the seventh. The Indians slammed five Boston pitchers for 13 hits with starter Earl Johnson being tagged with the loss.

It didn't take the Tribe long to chase Johnson in the first. Dale Mitchell beat out an infield hit, George Metkovich walked, Eddie Robinson doubled, Pat Seerey singled and Ken Keltner doubled to give the Boston southpaw an early shower.

Johnny Murphy entered the scene and was greeted with a home run by Joe Gordon, his 17th round-tripper of the season.

Blanked the next four rounds, Cleveland broke loose again in the sixth with a seven-run outburst highlighted by doubles by Al Lopez and Metkovich, singles by Mitchell, Robinson, Keltner and Lopez again and two errors.

PROSPECT SHUTS OUT OHIO PUBLIC SERVICE

Ohio Public Service suffered a 9-0 setback at the hands of the Prospect American Legion there last night. A mid-week crowd of over 300 turned out for the game.

Oehler allowed the Marion team only four scattered hits over the seven inning route. Leading Prospect hitters were Kirby with three for five, Griffith a home run and double in four times at bat, and Hoover with a home run and double in three tries.

Tomorrow night Prospect Legion entertains Marion Power Shovel and the the feature game will match two Columbus teams, Borden-Meadowbrook and Veteran's Administration.

State Agricultural Dept. To Fight Japanese Beetle Here

The state department of agriculture will take steps tomorrow to protect Marion against the Japanese beetle, following the trapping yesterday of the first beetle to be found in the city in the last several years

The insect was found in the yellow beetle trap located near 320 Franklin street by George Pluchel of 244 Hane avenue, state employed trap tender. Upon receipt of the report from Pluchel, State Inspector Raymond F. Wolfe, of the division of plant industry, made immediate arrangements have the area involved treated

Wolfe said it is customary to treat an area of two or more blocks when a beetle is found The department of agriculture crew is expected to treat the entire area in the 300 block on Franklin street

To Use New Method

The agriculture department will use a new mist applicator here in the control of one of our most serious insect pests The new method employs a concentrate containing DDT rather than the lead arsenate which has been applied to the soil in former years

The mist blower is capable of throwing DDT mist for a distance of from 75 to 200 feet depending upon wind conditions The material to be used, the department points out, will not damage plants or animals except certain inspects and perhaps goldfish in pools Where possible, fish pools should be covered during treatment, it is advised.

Unlike the arsenate of lead soil treatments which were intended to kill the larvae or grubs of the Japanese beetle which winter in the soil, the new treatment is directed against the adult beetle and will follow soon on the collection of any Japanese beetles from the yellow bait traps recently set out here.

Prevent Egg Laying

It is pointed out by the agriculture department that where treatment can be made immediately after the beetle is known to be active, the laying of eggs in the soil largely can be prevented. To speed up operations, property owners will not be notified individually although the area to be treated will be designated a few hours in advance of treatment

Residents of the area, it was said, can avoid hanging clothes on the line at the time of spraying operations if they wish, although no visible residue will be seen The material will not be harmful to persons in the manner it is to be used, agriculture department officials point out, adding however, that it would not be advisable to stand in the direct path of the material at close range to the machine

Discussion of further improving the shelter houses erected at the city parks was held, but no action was taken.

STOCKS GENERALLY REGAIN EQUILIBRIUM

NEW YORK, July 31—Stocks generally regained their equilibrium in today's market but the buying was timid and activity the lowest of the week

Some short covering and investment demand was based on the thought that three straight falling sessions to an average bottom since July 2 had placed the list in a much more favorable technical position Bullish enthusiasm was chilled a bit by another slump in the London market after early steadiness. Climbing prices for steel and other lines still inspired caution because of the outlook for growing consumer resistance.

Dealings were sluggish from the start. While many leaders did little or nothing, advances of fractions to 2 points or so predominated near the fourth hour

A stock dividend by Magnavox and a pleasing disbursement by Gruman Aircraft lifted these issues. Ahead most of the day were U S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, Norfolk and Western, Great Northern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, American Woolen, Schenley, Monsanto Chemical, International Paper, Chrysler, General Motors, U S. Rubber, Oliver Corp, American Water Works, American Smelting, Du Pont, Standard Oil (NJ), Montgomery Ward and Johns Manville.

Ohio Corn Crop Drop Of One-Third Predicted

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 31—Ohio's corn crop will be one-third to one-fourth below that of last year, Prof John I. Falconer of the Ohio State university rural economics office, predicted today

The crop still is more than three weeks behind schedule because of wet cold weather that delayed planting almost one month, he said

"Even with ideal conditions there is little chance of a normal yield, he declared

Falconer also saw a gloomy outlook for soybeans and wheat, with hay supplies fair, but of poor quality

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"PLEASE excuse me,' Dicky choked at Faith's piping paean. "There's something caught in my throat"

He started for the door leading to his bedroom, but Faith ran to him and caught at his hand

"I'll go with you and help you get it out," she volunteered

Released from fear of her seeing us and being grieved at our mirth, Katharine and I bent double with laughter as soon as the two had passed out of hearing.

"The cowardy custard!" Katharine said when she could speak "He thought he was giving himself an out leaving us to smother our laughs as best we might Am I glad he got his come-uppance!"

"I'm not shedding any tears over his plight," I assured her, wiping my eyes, "even if I did promise to cherish him through all his troubles"

"Faith will cherish him, if she isn't the death of him with some other speech Did you ever see or hear anything funnier than the way she rolled out that 'God's in His Heaven. All's right with the world,' because you let her have pancakes with her breakfast? Only Faith could have made that connection"

'She's something!" I agreed, with a smile at once fond and exasperated. "But I wouldn't change her little ways if I could"

Comfortable Comradeship

"If you ever start in, I'll kidnap her and take her where you'll never see her again!" she threatened, and then we laughed again, in the comfortable comradeship which is ours, and I bent to the menus

"I know what Faith's is," I said, "and my own, and I've planned Noel's and Mary's Is yours ready? I suppose I'll have to go after Dicky's."

"What have you planned for Noel and Mary?" she asked speculatively.

'Fruit juice—they like grapefruit juice as well as I do" I said "Then a fluffy omelet with broiled bacon, the pancakes with maple syrup, and coffee"

"May I make a suggestion?" she asked hesitantly.

"Of course,"I told her, knowing instinctively that the suggestion concerned Faith, wishing that she wouldn't be hesitant, and wondering miserably if that hesitancy stemmed from any guess she might have made of the jealousy which once had been mine over her care of Faith but which I thought I had concealed from her

"I was wondering if Faith might be permitted to substitute the omelet for her cereal," she said "I want the omelet, too, and I'm betting that you re choosing it yourself

Won't Lose

"You won t lose your wager" I told her, smiling, 'and of course Faith may have the omelet instead of the cereal She'll probably quote her couplet again'

'Well, we'll be prepared for her this time! But here they are back again, just in time. Dicky-bird, have you decided on your breakfast menu yet?"

"No, my daughter has kept me too busy Anything will do. Bacon and eggs, I suppose"

"Listen to this," Katharine said "Madge is planning fluffy omelets with broiled bacon after fruit juices, and little pancakes with maple syrup to follow"

"And I suppose" Faith said bitterly, "that I'll have to eat—

"Stop right there, Faith," I said sternly, 'for you may have to do the thing of which you're thinking But I've planned for you to have fluffy omelet too, instead of cereal, this morning"

A Flying Leap

"Oh, Boy!" Faith screeched and made a flying leap for my arms, "Now I know God's where you said he was!"

'I don t know, Katrina," Dicky said judicially, "but it seems to me this situation calls for the S P C A , or something like that You'd think this child was starved But she doesn't look anemic to me"

"I'm not starved" Faith said indignantly My Mummy feeds me lots of nice things But I do get awfully fed up with cereal'

'But that isn't answering the hundred dollar question," Katharine reminded him "Do you want us all to be out of step but you, Dicky, or will you have omelet, too?"

"Omelet by all means" Dicky said, and then Mary's voice sounded from the doorway

"We've come down to earth and are ready for eats," she said merrily 'Did I hear anybody mention that heavenly word, omelet?"
